Dear Mr. Weisberg:

Thank you for your letter regarding our program Front Page. We always appreciate hearing from our viewers - even those, like yourself, who have a complaint from time to time.

During the episode of Front Page which focused on the assassination of President Kennedy, our guest, Blaine Taylor, presented his theories regarding the assassination. Mr. Taylor's appearance on the program in no way implied WMAR-TV's support or agreement with his theories. He was simply a guest on this show, being given the opportunity to present his point of view. I would also like to point out that Front Page is not a news program, as you suggested in your letter; it is a public affairs program which focuses on current events which may be of interest to our viewers. I believe that we provide an interesting array of guests and subjects on this show, and hope that you will continue to watch.

Mr. Weisberg, I appreciate your comments, and I include for your perusal information submitted to us by Mr. Taylor. As I am sure you are aware, there will always be controversy surrounding President Kennedy's assassination, and we may never uncover all of the details of November 22, 1963. As long as there is interest in this subject, however, there are bound to be more theories expounded and "new details" uncovered. And most likely, those who support these theories will be featured on shows like Front Page.

While we don't expect that every viewer will agree with every feature on the program, we appreciate it when you let us know what you think. Thank you again for writing, and for watching Channel 2.

Sincerely,

Arnold J. Kleiner
