Re: Notes on Dealey Plaza Panel
Date: November 15, 1991 JFK Symposium, Dallas Texas

This panel started with each panelist giving an opening remark;
Jim Moore stated that, although he does not agree with the Warren Commission he believes that Lee O'swald is still the lone gunman.

Jim Marrs stated that Oswald went to a Jesuit college on the west coast and gave an anti Castro speech. He believes some photographs are fakes, and A.J. Milligan, who was standing between the TSBD and the knoll said that shots came from four different locations. (Could one of these locations be the south knoll??)

Larry Harris talked about Mrs. Walthers seeing two men on the sixth floor and all the evidence pointing towards a conspiracy. He stated, "Our national integrity is not intact." He pointed out that Officer Roger Craig saw Oswald get into a Rambler, and there were phony I.D.'s on the grassy knoll.

Robert Groden believes that the Zapruder and Nix films are the most important clocks of the assassination. He went on to say that Dr. Baden publicly agrees with the Warren Commission, but privately does not. Mr. Groden asks if conspiracy is evident when Dr. Wecht is shown phony photos. Governor Connolly's wounds are elongated, proving an angle shot, the Bronson film showing three people on the sixth floor six minutes before the assassination (the motorcade was late), the HSCSA was originally legitimate but when Sprague was fired, the cover up continued. He said that Oswald was seen before and after the assassination in the same place, and that he passed both a paraffin and voice stress test, and would never have been found guilty. Mr. Groden said that a new book in the making will show two men on the sixth floor; one in the "Oswald" window, and one in the extreme west window. He concluded his opening remarks by saying that the x ray photos were bad quality, the x ray photos show different things with then and now, and that the x rays and photos are not congruent.

Questions were asked by the audience: "Mr. Moore, have you looked at the backyard photos of Oswald, and if you did, do you find it strange that he is tilting in a way that defies gravity?" Answer: "I think the photos are for real;"

Mr. Moore added that the photos were developed in a drug store, which proves that they are genuine. Next, a reporter from the Washington Times asked Jim Marrs if he thoroughly checks his sources before he puts them in a book. Mr. Marrs stated that if the media asked those same questions back in 1963, maybe the case would've been solved. (Mr. Marrs got a loud applause from the audience.)

Some members of the audience kept asking Mr. Groden to show the Zapruder film again. He finally promised to show it later tonight or definitely tomorrow. I decided that this part of the audience sounded alot like some of my students in my Kennedy course in high school.
