

Robert Kennedy Was Killed Because He Planned New Probe of JFK's Death, Says Top Lawyer-Pathologist

By WILLIAM BRICE and DAVID KLEIN
Robert F. Kennedy was killed because he wanted to have reopened the investigation of the death of his brother, President John F. Kennedy, says a top lawyer-pathologist.

DR. CYRIL H. WECHT

Dr. Wecht, who is also a forensic pathologist and a consultant of the Warren Commission report on the President's death, reported to THE ENQUIRER:

"I believe the evidence shows conclusively that Lee Harvey Oswald was not the lone assassin of John Kennedy; that the assassination was the work of a conspiracy; and that the Central Intelligence Agency — the CIA — was definitely involved."

The doctor, who is also a forensic pathologist and a consultant of the Warren Commission report on the President's death, reported to THE ENQUIRER:

Dr. Wecht, who has just completed an inspection of the files of the Warren Commission, says that the CIA was definitely involved in the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

FLASHBACK to assassination of John Kennedy in 1963

The shooting taken by onlooker (John Zapruder) shows a bullet trajectory that immediately upon impact of the bullet or bullets, it would not have been some movement if the bullet had been fired by Oswald.

Another very big point is the fact that the Warren Commission, they tell us that John F. Kennedy's and Texas Governor John Connally's, that it did all that damage, and that particles of it were not in both bodies. Yet the bullet was never encountered a bullet that could be identified.
