Dear Dick.

Got your carbon of the letter to moward yesterday and his series of letters to me and carbons of one to you and Fisher today. We's a great kid and, although he considers himself stubborn, quite tractible for one of his years and excellent mind. His letter to Fisher is, as you may recall, what I suggested and, either way, makes a record. And his Spectergraphic analysis: I'd have loved to have been an observer:

S put up with it longer than I expected he would, so noward accomplished more than I'd anticipsted. The one thing I'd suggested, for which Specter gave him the perfect opening, he doesn't mention - a suggestion bast Specter change his mind and speak to me.

Howard also accomplished what he may not realize, and I will not tell him for a while, for a number of reasons. Le threw a scare into S that will not vaporize for a while, if at all. Le now knows not only the full enormity of what he did but that I know it. That he single me out for attribution is no accident. For is it that he immediately abandoned it.

I think it not impossible that, in the right time, he may nelp clean this up. It is his only survival mechanism, and, at what I consider the right time, I intend letting him know. I am in touch with one of his neers on a similar projection. hen the time comes, S will help us or he will not survive, politically, profes ionally or mersonally. That bettime will not be too long coming. Ifter I've deafted FM II.

The strange thing is, "think of the only one—the can "save" him. having guaranteed his ruin.
