Hal,
Yes, we find the grape
an excellent relaxant.
Better (for us) than any med — but much no doubt depends on individual body chemistry. = I see Powers is to pub. his acct.
on May 1 — rather an interesting date, don't you think?

Dear Dick,

What a pleasant and appropriate mending, a German-Mexican ~~WINDUP~~ card, the god of Gentry, i.e. the belated official cancellation of peace!

Although it is not important, I remain curious about the relaxing effect of the on an old Scotch drinker. That kind of body chemistry is that?

I'd like to know the strength or remoteness of the pub state of the Gentry-
No one doubts Gentry, who writes it, because he's not. It was in touch with me on just this point and will know it is fiction. But what profitable fiction!
Extensive and world-wide, pre-pub socialization. I've already gotten a cutting (today, from a dear sweet 18-year old-and-wet- far in England). Gentry promised me a flag, wanted my opinion, and was then silent, save for an ecological note or like. No replies, no promised "review" copy - no prize. But what the hell!

Nothing new on health, no new at all, no reports on tests, none slated. I suppose I'll have to wait the doctor when he resumes his practice.
Anyway, that is all it seems to be.

The Gentry has, I hope more success, and I think (and less writing).
Gentry's not like that. They'll be together again.

The colts, flares and furs, and a little as the land is shown.
Get the challenge so long they come to the kitchen door to be fed. More birds, more weather. I expect the war's past around, that we set an abundant table and allow each other. It was beyond the clouds, the days invaded and silence the world with its sick who were on hearing the same voice, expecting, and getting and feeling.

It's own get species of sparrows up own in the area and precluded by the extent of their expert books.

With all the intrusions and assorted troubles, my investigations, searches, continue and are productive. Need is for writing time.

Best,
