PPS- It was good to have almost talked to you on the phone!

Dear Harold,

No need to answer this note: Just want to say that I enjoyed very much PHOTOGRAPHIC WHITEWASH...your intro to the book is one of the most moving pieces you've done.

The opening of it, concerning the insured mss. is frightening. I would like to quote from it in L #3, if I may. I will give you full credit. On everything we use of yours, of course. And an ad, too--as some payment.

On the LOVELADY chapters: I think I'll just take the most important sections of those chapters as commentary on the photos, if I may. The two chapters, just reprinted, would be too long for our mag. I have had to do similar cutting with Penn's piece on the Deaths.

But I won't screw up--promise. Penn will look it over. I think the issue will be very good.

*Best for now
BR*

PS The #2 Latitudes I sent you is a badly printed copy: my wife mailed out 100 copies before I got home and when I did get home I saw the crappy job they did! So we sent them back and I got them today--redone. The printer had a dirty press & instead of cleaning it, he just added more ink! He'll pay for the stamps I used too!

I'll get another copy off to you soon. You can have all the #3 you want--we'll print at least 2000/ (I assume now).
