By WILLIAM DICK

Arthur Bremer, accused of shooting Gov. George Wallace, was trained for the job in a "school for assassins" that is part of a deep-laid political plot, assert three prominent investigators of U.S. assassinations. A fourth investigator poses the possibility of a conspiracy to take over the government.

Author Mark Lane charges that an assassins' school is maintained by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA). Lane wrote the best-selling book, "Rush to Judgment," which probes the Oswald killing of John F. Kennedy.

"I believe the attempted assassination of Gov. George Wallace was part of a conspiracy," Lane said in an exclusive ENQUIRER interview.

"I know that in the United States today there is a school for assassins run by the CIA. They have been training people for political assassinations for at least eight years. The attempt on the life of George Wallace is not the work of a lunatic. It shows coolness, planning and training.

"The man who shot Wallace — like Sirhan Sirhan who killed Robert Kennedy and like James Ray who killed Martin Luther King — stalked his victim carefully before picking the right timing: When the victim and consequently his guards were relaxed.

"And Bremer had money that cannot be accounted for. No one can explain how he was able to afford the things he did."

Bremer's financing was also stressed by Harold Weisberg, author of "Whitewash," which criticized the investigation of the JFK assassination. Weisberg told The ENQUIRER:

"Bremer stalked Wallace for six weeks, staying at such plush hotels as the Waldorf-Astoria in New York. He had two costly pistols, three suitcases of clothes and expensive cameras, a tape recorder and binoculars.

"Yet in the whole of the previous year, Bremer earned $1,600. This year he worked as a busboy and janitor. Six weeks of keeping a car on the road, let alone staying at hotels, would seem to exceed the resources of a part-time busboy-janitor.

"Where did all that money come from? Remember the unemployed Sirhan, whose pockets held $100 bills . . . Lee Harvey Oswald, who spent more than could ever be accounted for . . . Ray, whose year-long travels from country to country cost much more than his robberies could cover.

"Can we be sure that some new,

"Sirhan, whom I investigated thoroughly, was certainly trained for the shooting of Robert Kennedy. Sirhan's mother told me that he hated and feared guns. Yet suddenly he began owning and practicing with one.

ties in the way Bremer and Sirhan operated, I would say it is entirely possible that there is an assassins' training camp somewhere in the U.S."

Investigative journalist Theodore Charach of Los Angeles, who spent nearly four years probing the RFK killing, declared: "I most definitely believe that the shooting of Gov. Wallace was part of a conspiracy. There must exist some training school for assassins. All these terrible events must be part of the same plot.

"It's my belief that this is a CIA operation using psychotics and misfits in a school of training. There is a very strong, secret group of men in our society who are trying to force a change in our system through the gun rather than the ballot box.

"In Las Vegas I met an attorney who represented some very important men. He told me flatly that there was a training school out in the desert near the Los Angeles area where disturbed, hate-filled individuals are politically coached, coaxed and brain-washed.

"That is how they train the Oswalds, the James Earl Rays, the Sirhans and the man who shot Gov. Wallace."
