Look Who's Here 5 MAR 81 p3/

THE S.F. POLICE Dept. is about to get a new member — Patty White, 24-yr-old sister of Killer Dan White, himself a one-time S.F. cop. She is now over at Santa Rita, undergoing the final phase of her training — the Officers' Survival Course, or, how to react quickly under stress ... Now it can be told: The exceedingly odd Charles Gain was not the late George Moscone's first choice for Police Chief. George wanted Al Nelder, an old-line hard-nosed crime-buster, and Nelder had accepted. Before the announcement could be made, however, Moscone said, "Al, first thing I want you to do is cut $5 million out of the police budget." Nelder, putting on his hat: "You just lost a Police Chief" ... Footnote to a headline: Is Mae Brussell, the tireless newsdigger, first to notice that Jean Harris, the convicted murderer, owned a home on — Bullet Hole Road? That's in Mahopac, N.Y. She bought the house in 1975 but never lived in it, since she was spending most of her time in the mansion of the man she was fated to kill, Dr. Herman Tarnower ... Gloria Vollmayer's bumper snigger: "Stop the Expense Accounts — Take a Supervisor to Lunch."
