

A RETIRED DIPLOMAT
in Washington is sporting a new kind of rabbit's foot around town.

As he chats with friends, he twirls the rabbit's foot nonchalantly in one hand.

Then he explains. While they have been chatting, that rabbit's foot has been twitching rabby ears. The rabbit's foot is one of those new transistor devices which a Senate committee is investigating. Post 7/26/65
