Dear Mr. Cabot,

*attachment in
The Realist
file*

Sorry, I do not recall our correspondence. I do not know whether I then sent you a list of our books so on the chance you may I enclose one.

If I now had all the time I've taken responding to letters from people like you who have been misled by all the nutty theories palmed off as real, including by The Realist and Krassner, that time would be more than enough to write another book.

Your own xritical faculties should have told you that the first sentence of the Kangas article can't be true. Bush and Nixon had no "role" in the JFK assassination and no record even justifies any such suspicion.

You did use these faculties in recognizing that the Hugh McDonald book, "Appointment in Dallas," was a complete fake.

The Ricky White claim is a 100% fabrication, along with a few plagiarisms, not only of the made-up name "Saul" but from a novel!.

I've not heard anything new about that George Bush CIA/FBI liaison story but I do not believe it was the man who now is President. He had been a Congressman, he had lived in Washington when his father was a Senator from Connecticut, and I think it is not possible that he lived in the area in 1963 without anyone knowing about it.

You marked but did not explain why you marked the paragraph alleging that the Reagan/Bush administration imported cocaine and a few other items as unlikely or as deliberately twisted. The actuality seems to be that when the planes used to supply the Contras returned they sometimes carried the dope. But that does not mean it was for the administration. Or by it.

I've not heard what Bob Woodward's next book will "tell the truth" about the assassination and do not believe it.

There is no reason of which I know to even suspect that Pepsi was involved in the invasion of Cuba or in the JFK assassination.

Do you by any chance wanna buy the Brooklyn Bridge? I can get it for you cheap, real cheap!

I don't know what it is about the political assassination that leads people who have better sense to go for and support all the wild concocted "solutions" and allegations, to buy this kind of trash and yet, with supposedly serious interest in the assassination, avoid what is factual and while it won't titillate the same way, also will not mislead. I mean what is factual.

Sincerely,

Hardy

Dear Mr. Weisberg,

Some three years ago, I wrote to you about articles in The Nation that suggested President Bush was in the CIA at the time of the Kennedy assassination. In your reply, you told me that another George Bush, and perhaps yet another, were in the CIA, and the memo probably did not refer to George Herbert Walker Bush.

Just to follow up on this subject, I recently received a copy of the enclosed article from a friend. Is there really any new information to link Bush to the CIA at the time of the assassination?

Also, do you give any credence to Ricky White's story about his late father, Roscoe White? I was intrigued by one entry the younger White claimed to remember reading in his father's diary: "I was Mandarin, the man behind the stockade fence who fired two shots. Lebanon was the man in the Book Depository who fired two shots. Saul was the an in the Records Building who fired two shots".

I recall reading a book some time ago by somebody who claimed to be a former L.A. Police Officer. He claimed to have tracked down a professional assassin code named Saul, who he said killed Kennedy. I thought the book was awful, bad spy fiction masquerading as fact, like Robert D. Morrow's "Betrayal". Is the name "Saul" part of the general Kennedy assassination lore? Is the name mentioned elsewhere, to your knowledge?

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Joe Cabot
