Tord Seen Fearful of Baring Alleged CIA Role in Killings

President Ford reportedly has told associates that if current investigations of the CIA "go too far" they could uncover its involvement in several assassinations of foreign officials, CBS News said last night: CBS Washington corre spondent Daniel Schorr said Schorr said said that if they are disclosed, report on the domestic activi-"this; would embarrass the ties and "other potential minegovernment and damage re-fields." lations with at least one for Schorr said Colby told the assasinations were said to shocked by the killings and have been uncovered by De mentioned them internally as fense Secretary James R. a reason for extreme caution Schlesinger in his previous and security in investigations post as CIA director when he of the CIA by the administra-asked CIA employees in May, tion and Congress," (Schorr 1973, to report to him any said.

questionable CIA activities Four former high agency of they knew about Schlesinger ficials categorically denied banned any further use of any CIA involvement in the assasination of foreign lead-schorr said.

reid the President | reportedly director William E. Colby for a fael Trujillo.

eign country," Schorr said. President about the assassina-Schorr reported that the tions. "Ford reportedly was;

ers, although two of the for at least three assassinations Mr. Ford reportedly learned mer officials acknowledged reportedly are involved and of the assassinations after a that low-level proposals were that they are thought to have New York Times report last made for assassinating Cuban taken place in the 1960s or December of CIA domestic sur Premier Fidel Castro and Do-

"Some of the eager beavers down the line talked about these things, but none was ever carried out," one official former government official who worked on the internal CIA investigation that CBS said uncovered the activity told Associated Press: "We never had any indication whatsoever of CIA involvement in assassination."

The former official, who asked not to be identified, was an aide to former CIA director Schlesinger.

An agency spokesman refused all comment. And a White House spokesman said: "We have nothing to say about the report.