

By James K. W. Atherton-The Washington Post Postal inspector Cotter pauses during Hill testimony.

Official Defends Mail Surveillance The Postal Service yester- tee the surveillance, known as lay defended the mail surveil- mail cover, does not entail ance it conducts for the Agri- opening mail. Instead, it inculture Department, Navy, volves making a record of the and dozens of other govern-sender's name and address ment departments on the from the outside of the envegrounds they are law enforcement agencies.

lances it conducted last year tect national security, appreat a hearing of the House Juhend a fugitive, or solve a diciary administration of jus- crime. tice subcommittee.

defrauded. The Navy, Cotter is opened without a court or said, believed one of its emder. There were 431 such orployees with access to classiders last year, he said. fied information was in con-former FBI agent and Central for mail covers, Cotter said Intelligence Agency employee, such a law would hamper said Congress might well question why some "rinky-dink" many mail covers are underagencies are allowed by Postal taken when there is no evi-Service regulations to initiate dence to show a crime probamail surveillance. But he de-bly was or will be committed clined to say the practice the criterion required by should be stopped.

Cotter told the subcommit sued.

He said any local, state, or federal law enforcement William J. Cotter, chief agency may have a mail cover postal inspector, cited some conducted if it views the surexamples of the 4,400 surveil veillance as necessary to pro-

With the exception of activi-Cotter said Agriculture ties publicly admitted to by wanted to know if it was being the CIA, Cotter said, no mail

Asked by Rep. Robert F. tact with foreign governments. Drinan (D-Mass.) if court or-After the hearing, Cotter, a ders should also be required courts before orders are is-