

Committee Puts Off
Investigation of CIA

AP Wirephoto
Associated Press

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee put off a decision yesterday on a proposal for a full study of the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.), said the committee discussed in closed session the proposal by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.), but took no action.