Dear Bob and Carl,

If the new Materiate developments direct you into new or other channels or if either of you plans a book, part of Bittman's comman yesterday reminds as of a can I once knew well you might want to mosk out. It should be possible by plane.

Bunt was part of the Gustomalan overthrown, still uncritically and falsely called that of a "Communist" government. (X then knew latin American diplomate, including from the military and conservative, they knew the Gustemalaus km and more uniform in saying they ware not red but merely modally-conacious.)Exactly coinciding with this CLA operation the Dominican military attache. Second Permanda (Mando) Costillo sent to Venezuela, shance part of the operation was mounted and directed. His knowing sciles when I reised the question with him confirmed the remore X'd heard that he was part of it. All those I know who knew him held this belief.

In suggesting a possible connection between Hunt and Hando (and if I remember correctly -coninican involvement because public knowldge) I as also suggesting that Hunt may have been part of the later U.S. Scannican intervention, an incredible fissed based upon unalloyed GIA poppycock in which all "eminicans to the left of Invillo were called Construints. That list was not a typical GIA job. It had the political perspective of Hunt.

He is one of those I call the dedicated wrong.

Last I heard of Mankio, from a former girl friend, he had survived their troubles and was in Ciuded Trujillo. He was the son-in-law or the brother-in-law of the late dictator. Probably the Habassy, if not the phone company information service, could locate him.

The GLA might not want to any, but would you find it intersuting of "unt wenethe author of that Dominican variant of the Day of Figs? Ur, a three-out-of-three guy before he made it four of a kind? What better credentials for a White House position of trust?

I find the direct quotes in today's Post fascinating. If the Post got a transcript of the session, how about returning some favors with a zerox? I'd like to go over it with care.

If you would care to conjecture in the sheels-within-wheels department, some of AcCord gratuities sight provide a beginning point. Assuring he had a way of knowing that there was not more than one interest involved, why did he have to go so far out of his way to exculpate the UIA? Or the one not identified in the Post I take to be cloan?

I an aware that everyone is going for the notion that Liddy was der Fuchrer. I linger with the idea that he waan't and that "unt was "I Caudillo. By facilities are quite limited, but I was able to pursue the leads on him that you did not a bit farthur. One of them persuades as it is possible if not probable that there running an exposed scandal of even greater magnitude.

If you have the transcript and ose provide a copy, thanks.

Mnoorely,

Harold Weisborg
