001.76h 28 38年 NEW YORK, FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1976 -

C.I.A. Said to Have Known In '50's of Lockheed Bribes

Data on Japanese Reportedly Were Not Passed on to State Dept. or Grumman, Whose Fighter Lost Out to F-104 with the a bill the

By ANN CRITTENDEN (1) Light Lifes

Many of the details of the were made to top officials of bribery of Japanese politicians the Government, primarily by the Lockheed Aircraft Cor-through Yoshio Kodama, an poration in the late 1950's, in influential power-broker in connection with the sale of the Japan who has already been F-104 fighter plane to Japan, identified as the most imwere reported at that time to portant behind-the-scenes repthe headquarters of the Central resentative of Lockeed at that Intelligence Agency in Wash-time. ington, according to a former Mr. Kodama has not been aware of the bribery, public Embassy officials in Japan. In disclosure of the payoffs did addition, Mr. Kodama was the not come until last Feb. 4 in recipient of American funds hearings of the Senate subcomfor covert projects, on several mittee on multinational corporacions, according to former touched off worldwide investi-gations of the payments by CTA channels from the em-Lockheed and other American bassy in Tokyo in the late companies to various parties in 1950's. A Japanese citizen who Europe, Japan and the Middle worked for Lockheed in 1958, East to win lucrative multimil- when certain bribes were lion-dollar sales contracts for known to have been made, has warious products ranging from said he told an American Emaircraft to pharmaceuticals.

The Lockheed payoffs win Japan, involving $12.6 million

C.I.A. official and Japanese identified as a C.I.A. agent, but sources. Although the C.I.A. was lationship with American

The scandal has created in The C.I.A. headquarters in ternational tensions and Washington was informed of bassy officer of these payoffs. He has denied having taken over a period of 20 years, Continued on Page 44, Column 1

C.I.A. agent.

plane :

the Japanese jet fighter contract volvement in them by: C.I.A. away from Grumman in the agents.

Lockheed A spokesman for Lockheed paid fees, commissions and bribes totaling $12.6 million to sell $700 million worth of aircraft to Japan between 1956

C.I.A. agents. and 1975.

Kodama Earned $750,000

Of that total, some $7 million earned an estimated $750,000 If the information concerning the Lockheed bribes was passed on to the Justice Department, the Securities and Japan, Exchange Commission or the Internal Revenue Service, no to have received some $150,000 not tax-deductible and the in Tokyo. large foreign payoffs raise the possibility that Lockheed and Ship S. other companies might have illegally reduced their taxable official and to Robert H. Booth, corporate income by deducting an American said to have acted the bribe payments as business as Mr. Kodama's agent in the arrangement, the Americans

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2 It is also possible that false statements, punishable by Fedpart in the payments himself and has said that he was un-Government agencies as the aware that the officer was a Department of Defense, which

C.I.A. agent.

Former senior intelligence officials have confirmed that the Embassy official was indeed a C.I.A. staff officer assigned to the Tokyo station.

One former official who was in a position to see the reports said that the C.I.A. station in Tokyo "was checking with leadquarters every stey of the way when the Lockheed thing concern from a policy point of the state of the state of the senior of t way when the Lockheed thing concern from a policy point of came up."

came up."

"Every move made was approved by Washington," he added, asserting that details of the Lockheed affair were known in high levels within the agency.

The Central Intelligence Agency failed to pass this information on to the State Department or to the Grumman Aircraft Corporation, whose FILF-IF-Super Tiger jet fighter was first selected for purchase by the Japanese Government in 1958 and then in 1959 rein 1958 and iected in favor of the Lockheed could say nothing either confirming or denying any agency Lockheed is estimated to have knowledge of the payments to spent some $1.5 million to win Japanese officials, or any in-

According to knowledgeable sources, Mr. Kodama, a powerful ultrarightist who for years exerted a significant behindwent to Mr. Kodama, who the-scenes influence on politicians of Japan's ruling Liberal-Democratic Party, also had a long-standing relationship with American Embassy officials in

In the early 1950's, he is said action was taken to investigate from the American Embassy to the irregularities.

Foreign bribes are not in out of mainland China on Nathemselves illegal under Federical law. However, the bribes are it to United States authorities > Ship Said to Have Sunk According to a former C.I.A.

The New York Times/Hirotaki Yoshizaki Yoshio Kodama, the influential power broker in Japany has been identified as the most important behind-thescenes representative of Lockheed at time of payoffs.

never received the tungsten. "enormous" American financail
Mr. Kodama let it be known that the ship had sunk, and apthat the ship had sunk, and apcarently kept the commission.

that the ship had sunk, and apparently kept the commission.

One former agent noted that there were some sentiment at C.I.A. headqueraters in Washington that Mr. Kodama, who alho had close ties to the Tokyo underworld, was untrustworthy and was using the Americans and their financing for his own ends.

In this man's opinion, American authorities were spending vast amounts of money subsidizing extreme rightists to fight a Communism never reality a serious threat in 1947 and 1948.

In those years, Japanese politics could have turned in a different direction, Professor Mornis maintained. "A lot was done to prevent that," he said. "and the 1950's usceessfully."

Among other things, American occupation authorities in the late 1940's and the 1950's used extreme right-wing former military officers to provide information on and to dispression threat in 1947 and 1948.

In those years, Japanese politics could have turned in a different direction, Professor Mornis maintained. "A lot was done to prevent that," he said. "and the 1950's used extreme right-wing former military officers to provide information on and to dispression threat in the country was crucial in 1947 and 1948.

In those years, Japanese politics could have turned in a different direction, Professor Mornis maintained. "A lot was done to prevent that," he said. "and the 1950's used extreme right-wing groups.

In November 1951, for example, one of these officers, Col. Takushiro Hattori, a former secretary of General Tojo, allegedly provided American authorities with information on and to dispression the late 1940's, the 1950's used extreme right-wing groups.

In November 1951, for example, one of these officers, direction, Professor of Japanese at Columbia University and an authorities with information on and to dispression authorities in a cocupation authorities in the late 1940's and the 1950's used extreme right-wing groups.

In November 1951, for example, one of these officers, direction, Professor Mornis maintained." A lot was done to prevent that, "he s