

Associated Press

Danger Writs in Midst of Pile-Up

Emergency crews stood by yesterday near Cambridge Springs, Pa., where a tankcar of potentially toxic vinyl cyanide was among 26 freight cars derailed. The wreck scene is only a short distance from French

Creek, the city's drinking water source. Officials of American Cyanamid Corp. arrived yesterday to supervise removal of the dangerous cargo.