Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.). whose escapades with stripper Fanne Foxe became the talk of the nation 10 months ago, will be hauled before his Masonic lodge Aug. 22 to answer for his misconduct. Ì.

The recuperating Mills, once a power in the House, now a forlorn figure, will be tried by a five-man commission at his home lodge in Kensett, Ark.

Just as his name was fading from the headlines, he must now face new notoriety. He could be expelled in disgrace from the fraternity. This would be a bitter blow to Mills, a 33d degree Mason, who was awarded the Grand Lodge Medal of Honor for bringing credit and glory to Masonry.

Mills told us he would fight the charges if the fraternity goes ahead with a formal trial. If all Masons were expelled who have a drinking problem, he added bitterly, the fraternity would lose half its membership. Sources familiar with the preparations say the trial is set. The grand master, Lee Overstreet of Texarkana, Ark., is determined to expel Mills, they say. Overstreet is described as a stern leader who is determined checked into a Washington hosto clean up Masonry and disci- pital with "complete mental and pline the wrongdoers. Only if physical exhaustion." He subse-Mills is contrite and confes- quently confessed at a proce

In the early hours of Og Fanne Foxe, otherwise known as the Argentine Firecracker, clawed Mills' face, bolted from his Mark IV Continental and leaped into Washington's Tidal Basin.

The squalid publicity didn't deter him a month later from making a surprising appearance on the stage of a Boston burlesque theater to plant a kiss upon the Argentine Fire cracker. "This won't ruin me," he boasted erroneously.

Not long afterwards, he sional, our sources say, can he conference that he was an alcoholic.

He now attends Alcoholic Anonymous meetings every night. "I feel remarkably well." he said. He believes he will be rehabilitated and able to return to his congressional chores in September. But he will never go back to the work schedule of the A degenerative disc in his past, which wore him out, rubbed his nerves raw and caused

He had been apprehensive at paired the disc, he continued to first, he said, about the attitude of his congressional colleagues. He took painkilling drugs But he is now at ease with them. "They have been exceedingly cordial," he said.

Has he heard from the Argenine Firecracker? Not since his breakdown, he said.

CIA Echoes-Vice Presiden Rockefeller produced a Central Intelligence Agency study that was inconclusive. The House investigation of the CIA is floundering. Only the able, articulate could follow up the findings of Sen Frank Church (D-Idaho) has the Church committee. The final managed to keep the CIA on the report itself, he added, will be griddle.

Yet behind his back, his inves tigators are bickering. The committee's four task forces stantly spat with one another. The staff attorneys mistrust the professors. The outside experts mistrust the insiders who were once on the payrolls of the intelligence agencies.

There is also tension between the ivory tower staff members who take the gee-whiz approach and the former criminal investigators who are more pragmatic.

Some staff members complain that Church will never be able to complete the investigation by his end-of-February deadline. It is impossible to undo 20 years of congressional neglect of the CIA, FBI and other intelligence agencies in seven more months, they contend. A responsible investigation would take at least two years, possibly five years, by their estimates.

A spokesman suggested the permanent oversight committee could follow up the findings of the best rebuttal to other criticisms.
