New Exile Group Forms in Miami

MIAMI, Aug 13 (AP)—The commander of the 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion of Cuba, Jose Perez San Roman, has been named military leader of a new Cuban exile organization.

The body, called Civic Group, completed organization at a meeting last night. Speakers called for unity among exiles.

Named to the executive committee were Carlos Marquez Sterling of New York, a former Cuban presidential candidate; Jose Ignacio Rivero, who published Havana's oldest newspaper; Ernesto Freyre, an exile unity leader, and others.
