To the Editor of Commentary:

The eminent...Chancellor Kent

Professor of Law and Legal History at Yale University, Alexander M. Bickel, has paid me the honor of not letting the name of my book, Whitewash: The Report off the Warren Report, pass his lips. For this boon I am equally indebted to you, for it was to you that I sent a copy of the book last May.

of course, it may just have been because my book reached you so much earlier than the others that Mr. Bickel managed to avoid consideration of it in what we must accept—because of his exalted. I position and the reputation ... of your learned journal—as an exhaustive study of the literature on the Report of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy....

Please, do not assume that I resent being forgotten... It is a circumstance I have learned to live with in equanimity and increasing sales, for I find that those commonly thought of as intellects...prefer yo ignore a humble writer who suffers

the indignity of living on a farm and...has managed to survive the lack of mention and false heaping-up of laurals....

When first I began to read "The Failure of the Warren Commission," I foolishly though it wassa takeoff on Sholem Aleichem. I was led into this trap by the clear separation of htis work from both the law, of which its author is such a resplendent authority, and reality, with which he has little association. Sonn it became clear to even such a clouded understanding as mine...that if it were Sholem Aleichem it would be tenth rate. No, said I, the ...Chancellor Kent Professor of Law and Legal History at Yale University... can do nothing tenth rate.

Then it occurred to me that the piece--make one I read some time back in Ramparts--might be a spoof. No, I told myself, this would be but fifth-rate spoofing and certainly...Mr. Bickel would associate himself with nothing fifth rate.

Aha! I said as the realization of what must be the truth slowly worked its way through...my..head, this is nonsense-first rate nonsense,..!2 At last I understood, and what a relief! This is nonsense, presented otherwise in order to tax those of limited understanding and delight those who are wise, a fitting presentation for such a journal....

So I must congratulate you...for such a tour of intellectual force, for yours/and the professor's attainment of the absolute perfection in non-sense so cleverly disguised as a review....
