CHRISTIANS BETRAYED TO ENEMIES BY POLITICAL AND RELIGIOUS LEADERS

By BENJAMIN H. FREEDMAN

Founder 1946
League for Peace with Justice in Palestine

Christians in the United States must prepare for the greatest shock they have ever experienced. They will be shocked as never before in their lives when they learn the nature and the extent of their betrayal to their enemies by their political and religious leaders. They will at first find it difficult to believe. However they will very quickly change their minds after they read what follows here. They will read in these disclosures proof of their betrayal to their enemies by their political and religious leaders in whom they placed their trust.

Unfortunately for Christians in the United States, they paid little attention over the years to the warnings by this author to this threat to their security and survival. The disclosures which follow here now make it possible for Christians in the United States for the first time in their lives to understand the importance to them of their betrayal to their enemies by their political and religious leaders for a "Judas kiss," for their "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" paid to political and religious leaders in the accepted 20th century manner to secretly compensate betrayers of public trust, as double-agents are now paid.

Christians in the United States either were kept in ignorance about the real meaning of what was going on under their very eyes, or for other reasons took little interest in what was going on around them. While conditions in the United States were going from bad to worse in recent years, Christians in the United States did little if anything to stem that tide. The time has now arrived when Christians in the United States must take the initiative necessary to reverse the present trend or suffer the consequences. Christians in the United States may still have time to make that choice but regretfully not much. It would be very helpful to know how much but the very little time that remains is rapidly running out, judging by the news.

It must be conceded on behalf of Christians in the United States, they had no reason for suspecting the identity of their enemies, scheming behind their backs all the time to implement their conspiracy. Their sudden awakening at this late date will come as a shock to Christians in the United States. They will not be able to understand that what has been taking place was not merely unrelated coincidences. They will surely see, beyond all question of any doubt, that their betrayal to their enemies was a conspiracy of long standing, a well-planned and well-executed conspiracy. Every Christian in the United States will now understand why political and religious leaders gratuitously made available to them the tools with which they were unwittingly destroying institutions so sacred to Christian tradition and customs.

The ignorance on this subject by which Christians in the United States have been kept in the dark by both their political and religious leaders is more a matter of their criminal negligence than of betrayal. Among the many other adverse consequences of that imposed ignorance, the United States was railroaded so far in this century into five wars, into World War I, World War II, the war in Vietnam, the war in Korea and the war in the Middle East. The United States was maneuvered into those five wars by the enemies in the United States of the Christian 93% of the entire United States population.

"he says it like it is"

The United States did not engage in any of those five wars "in the best interests" of their Christian 93% of the United States population. Their diabolical motivations for railroaded the United States into those five wars were to dig their grave for the United States a little deeper five times. Those five wars proved very useful in that respect. The United States surely would never have been railroaded into any of those five wars if the foresight of the Christian 93% of the population of the United States in those years was as good as their hindsight today.

The cost in lives and dollars of those five wars, to the Christian 93% of the United States population, by far surpasses human comprehension or mathematical calculation, even using computers. The final cost in lives and dollars cannot now be determined as the wars in Vietnam, Korea and Middle East are today far from over. The total cost of those five (5) wars in dollars alone must of necessity include future interest paid on United States obligations issued to finance those five wars and future pensions paid to veterans who fought in those five wars and to their dependents. The total today already staggers the imagination. That final total will look then like a lesson in astronomy.

The Christian 93% of the United States population bears the burden of 93% of the taxes of every description collected by all the Federal, State, County and Municipal subdivisions of government. Experts unanimously agree that all taxes, collected from individuals or corporations doing business in the United States are eventually reflected in the prices paid by everybody for "goods and services." They also confirm that taxes paid by organizations of every description are sooner or later added onto the prices of everything consumed, necessities as well as luxuries. The cost of those five wars is responsible for the high cost of living in the United States. This appears to be overlooked.

The Christian 93% of the United States population paid 93% of the cost in dollars to the United States for those five wars. They will likewise pay 93% of the future additional cost in dollars of three unfinished wars, the war in Vietnam, in Korea and in the Middle East. It is a mysterious phenomenon that Christians of the 93% of the United States population did not vehemently protest when President Nixon donated five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000.00) to their enemies in the Middle East of the Christian 93% of the United States population, for an illegal occupation of the Middle East in violation of international law, the United Nations Charter, and forty-two Security Council resolutions. The Christian 93% of the United States population must provide 93% of that five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000.00) for President Nixon to give to Zionists by paying increased taxes for that amount.

President Nixon shortly afterward promised another five hundred million dollars ($500,000,000.00) from the same source and for that same purpose, without even a whimper from the Christian 93% of the population. Does the Christian 93% of the United States population today realize that additional taxes paid by them must make available to President Nixon 93% of that one billion dollars ($1,000,000,000.00) which he so generously gave as a gift to Zionist aggressors in the Middle East? Are there no limits to what political and religious leaders in the United States will do to downgrade the United States everywhere in this world as the accomplices of crooks, before and after the fact, aiding thieves to retain possession of stolen plunder, abetting crooks to hold onto their stolen loot? Are their "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" of so much value to them that their consciences will permit them to degrade and disgrace the country which did so much for them? How can the self-respecting countries of this world hold out their clean hands to the United States in honorable friendship?

There is another aspect to the Middle East situation which should receive consideration by the Christian 93% of the United States population. From the start of hostilities in the Middle East in 1948, political and religious leaders in the United States high pressured the United States to partake in a war fought upon a religious context, the "repatriation" of "God's chosen people" to their "promised land." Political and religious leaders in the United States exerted pressure of every kind within their spheres of influence for extending unlimited political, economic and military "aid and comfort" to that 20th century religious crusade. Unhappily for the Christian 93% of the United States population, they were ill-advised by their political and religious leaders. Their political and religious leaders knew tradition precluded the United States from ever engaging in religious warfare. If "repatriation" of "God's chosen people" does not connote a religious crusade, then what does it connote? If it is not a religious crusade then it can only be a war of aggression fought for conquest of territory.

Political and religious leaders in the United States in 1948 were aware that the illegal aggression in Palestine on May 14, 1948 was an armed uprising by the 600,000 minority of eastern Europeans of Khazar ancestry illegally transplanted into Palestine between 1920 and 1948 by the British "mandate," the temporary trustee, behind 200,000 British troops stationed in Palestine by the British for that purpose in collusion with Zionist high-commands in London and in New York. Those 600,000 transplanted eastern European Khazars never had an ancestor who ever set a foot in Palestine in Bible history. That May 14, 1948, 30% of Palestine's population, "proclaimed" the "liberation" of their "ancestral homeland" at midnight under their secret agreement. President Truman was 7,000 miles distant.

Political and religious leaders in the United States knew before May 14, 1948 that the ancestors of the 600,000 transplanted minority in Palestine were pagan phallic worshippers from 400 B.C. to the 8th century A.D., when they were converted in 710 A.D. to the monotheistic worship chosen by their ruler, King Bulan of the Khazar kingdom, as their future religious belief, for that twelve million (12,000,000) pagan nation, of phallic worshippers only.

The conversion of that twelve million (12,000,000) pagan Khazar population to Talmudism ("Judaism"), took place in 710 A.D. according to the Jewish Encyclopedia, Volume IV, pages 1 to 5, and to the three hundred and fifty-two other celebrated authorities on that subject in the Jacob H. Schiff collection in the Hebrew Room of the New York Public Library. The conversion of the twelve million (12,000,000) pagan Khazar nation in 710 A.D. was well known in 1948 to political and religious leaders in the United States. This author throughout 1946, 1947 and 1948 mailed fully documented dossiers on this subject by first class mail to every political and religious leader then in the United States.

Since the May 14, 1948 armed uprising in Palestine, political and religious leaders in the United States never overlooked an opportunity to exert their influence on the gullible Christian 93% of the United States population to believe that May 14, 1948 armed uprising in Palestine by the 600,000 minority of transplanted eastern European Khazars, (against a 1,350,000 majority of a seventeen-century indigenous Christian and Moslem population) as a "fulfillment of prophecy," a long delayed "repatriation" of "God's chosen people" to their "promised land," as a "liberation" of their "ancestral homeland." That was considered by them "in the line of duty," a mutual obligation for their "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver."

This great fraud upon the credulity of the Christian 93% of the United States population is being very rapidly exposed. Political and religious leaders in the United States aim to substitute another kind of fraud for the fraud just now exposed. They are attempting to brainwash the Christian 93% of the United States population into believing it is "in the best interests of the United States" to underwrite the political, military and economic objectives of the regime in Palestine to prevent the "penetration" of the Soviet Union into that strategic area. But it happens the more the United States extends political, economic and military "aid and comfort" to the regime in Tel Aviv, the more the Middle East states will continue to welcome the Soviet Union as their most trusted friend.

The roster of prominent political leaders among the better known to the present generation includes Presidents Woodrow Wilson, Harry S. Truman, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Dwight D. Eisenhower, John F. Kennedy, Lyndon B. Johnson, Richard M. Nixon, Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey, Senators Jacob K. Javits, Abraham Ribicoff, Henry M. Jackson, Stuart Symington, Edward S. Muskie, Robert Kennedy, Birch Bayh, Edward M. Kennedy, George S. McGovern, Representatives Emanuel Celler, Leonard Farbstein, Richard L. Ottinger, Benjamin S. Rosenthal, Governor Herbert H. Lehman, W. Averell Harriman, Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mayors Fiorello LaGuardia, John Lindsay, Robert F. Wagner, William O'Dwyer, Vincent R. Impellitteri, Supreme Court Justices Louis D. Brandeis, Felix Frankfurter, Arthur M. Goldberg, Abe Fortas, William B. Douglas and many better known political leaders from coast to coast who in their official political capacities promoted Zionist objectives in Palestine known by them at the time to be in conflict with the best interests of the Christian 93% of the entire United States population.

The roster of prominent religious leaders among the better known to the present generation includes His Eminence the late Francis Cardinal Spellman, the Reverends Billy Graham, Norman Vincent Peale, Billy Hargis, Carl McIntire, Harry Dorman, Dan Potter, Bishop Francis J. Mugavero, Monsignor John Oesterreicher, and many better known religious leaders from coast to coast who in their official religious capacities promoted Zionist objectives in Palestine known by them at the time to be in conflict with the best interests of the Christian 93% of the entire United States population.

Their number is legion, the phalanx of political and religious leaders in the United States guilty of betrayal to their enemies of the Christian 93% of the United States population. The roster of their names and histories of their betrayals would fill many volumes. Regrettably, space here is limited. Consequently only a few of those names better known to the present generation with brief histories of each ones betrayals are included here. Some names are better known than others to the present generation. Among those most guilty among the better known to the present generation are President Harry S. Truman and His Eminence the late Francis Cardinal Spellman.

The motivation for the betrayal to their enemies by their political and religious leaders of the Christian 93% of the United States population was a debt of (dis)honor to Zionists for their "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver." Political and religious leaders in the United States wilfully and knowingly perjured themselves when they represented that May 14, 1948 Zionist armed uprising in Palestine as the "repatriation" of "God's chosen people" to their "promised land," and "the fulfillment of prophecy," to their believing and trusting Christian 93% of the United States population expecting the truth.

The "instant recognition" by President Truman in Washington of the May 14, 1948 Zionist armed uprising in Palestine seven minutes after "proclaiming" it as the State of Israel in Tel Aviv 7,000 miles distant in the middle of the night, was his betrayal of the Christian 93% of the United States population to their enemies. President Truman's "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" was the support he received in his 1948 election from every Zionist politician in the United States. The odds were 20 to 1 against Truman in the 1948 election. He was then opposed by Governor Dewey as the candidate of the Republican Party. He then demanded the promise of Zionist support in his election for his pledge that he would "recognize" the Zionist armed uprising in Palestine on May 14, 1948, immediately upon its "proclamation" in Palestine in the middle of the night as an "independent sovereign state." The Zionist agent in Washington described that conspiracy blow by blow in a three page exposure in the London Jewish Chronicle, the story of May 14, 1948, as a Tenth Anniversary issue in June 1958.

The "instant admission" as a member into the United Nations of the so-called State of Israel resulted from the intervention by His Eminence, the late Francis Cardinal Spellman. To give the State of Israel pseudo-status of respectability, it was necessary to admit the May 14, 1948 armed uprising in Palestine of the transplanted minority to United Nations membership. The services of Cardinal Spellman were retained for that purpose by Mr. Charles H. Silver, a prominent Zionist and close friend of Cardinal Spellman. Cardinal Spellman made two trips to South America where he was able to make several South American countries yield and to change their votes from "No" to "Yes" to admit the State of Israel as a member into the United Nations. Mr. Silver proudly gave full credit to Cardinal Spellman as that "faithful" Zionist for a "miracle" when he "confessed" before a big audience on June 10, 1964, at the 50th Anniversary celebration of the Beth Israel Hospital at the Waldorf Astoria, in the presence of Cardinal Spellman as his guest of honor. "All the Cardinal Spellman 'thirty (dirty) pieces of silver' are now matters of public record. Every newspaper of consequence throughout the world on June 11, 1964 dramatized Mr. Silver's blow-by-blow story of how Cardinal Spellman used his prominence to get the State of Israel a membership in the United Nations. In discussing this matter with this author, a close friend of Cardinal Spellman, from 1933 until the time of his death, he often expressed keen regret for what he did. He said he was sorry he could not undo the mistake he had made when blood began to flow on June 5, 1967. He felt it his fault.

President Woodrow Wilson was more responsible than anyone for all that has happened in the Middle East since 1916. President Wilson was blackmailed into railroading the United States into World War I by Zionist deception. The Zionists were able to exert pressure on President Wilson through Justice Brandeis. Justice Brandeis was appointed to the Supreme Court upon the "recommendation" of Mr. Samuel Untermyer who did not prosecute a breach of promise suit against President Wilson as a reward for President Wilson's agreement to appoint Mr. Untermyer's nominee to the first vacancy in the Supreme Court. After Mr. Justice Brandeis took his seat of the Supreme Court, he became the Zionists' contact in the White House. He exercised great power over President Wilson in matters concerning Zionist ambitions in acquiring Palestine for their "homeland."

Great Britain had lost World War I to Germany and was about to accept the peace offer made by Germany. In October 1916, when the British War Cabinet had Germany's peace offer before them, the World Zionist Organization rushed their proposal to the British War Cabinet. The World Zionist Organization offered to railroad the United States into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally if Great Britain agreed to turn Palestine over to "the Zionists of the world," after the defeat of Germany, and the partition of the Ottoman Empire, Germany's ally in World War I. Great Britain declined Germany's peace offer and concluded their agreement with the World Zionist Organization to "deliver" Palestine.

Under Zionist pressure, President Wilson declared war against Germany on April 6, 1917, alleging to Congress that the British S.S. Sussex, an English Channel passenger "ferry," was sunk in the English Channel by a German submarine with the loss of many United States citizens. The sinking of the S.S. Sussex was taken by President Wilson as his "pretext" to railroad the United States into World War I as Great Britain's ally. President Wilson's "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" was the fact that he was spared a breach of promise lawsuit commenced against him so soon after his election as President. The S.S. Sussex had not been sunk and no lives of United States citizens were then lost. If Great Britain had accepted Germany's 1916 generous peace offer world history would now be different. Germany offered Great Britain a generous peace treaty, no indemnity, no reparations, and the restoration of all territorial and political rights to all belligerents as of the day the war commenced. The world since then has paid a bloody price for keeping President Wilson's love affair out of politics.

The day the United States declared war against Germany, Great Britain then became obligated to turn Palestine over to "the Zionists of the world" when the war ended. That is the secret why Great Britain connived to embezzle all of Palestine from the Christian and Moslem 95% of the Palestine population at the end of World War I and hand it over to the Zionist 5% of Palestine's population. Palestine was then used as the "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" Great Britain paid to "the Zionists of the world" for railroading the United States into the war in Europe as Great Britain's ally. The so-called Balfour Declaration was the synthetic alibi concocted by Great Britain and the Zionists to prevent the world from learning the truth about why the United States was railroaded into World War I in Europe. This author's own friendship with President Wilson dates back to his connection in 1912 on the National Democratic Committee as confidential assistant to the Hon. Mr. Henry Morgenthau Sr., Chairman of the Finance Committee in the 1912 Democratic Party's campaign. It continued until President Wilson declared war against Germany. In that period President Wilson kept no secrets from this author as his closest contact with Mr. Bernard Baruch.

President John F. Kennedy's "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" was his election as President of the United States. President Kennedy was told by his father, Ambassador Joseph Kennedy in his office on the ninth floor of 230 Park Avenue, to take the advice of this author on the Palestine question. This author was then in conference with Ambassador Kennedy in his office when his son John rushed into his office without any formality. He was enroute from Boston to Washington the day after his first election as a Member of the Congress in November 1946. Ambassador Kennedy explained to John the future importance of the Middle East in world affairs. He impressed upon John that this author was the best source of reliable information and that he would do well to learn about the situation from him. Congressman John F. Kennedy and this author lunched together and spent four hours reviewing the Palestine question. Between November 1946 and August 23, 1960, we often conferred just to discuss developments in the Middle East.

On August 21, 1960, Senator John F. Kennedy showed this author the draft of his speech he was to make to the Zionist Organization of America in the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York on August 25, 1960. That was his bid for Zionist support for his future campaign for President in the November election. He declined to give consideration to this author's suggestion to him to tear up his address even if it meant he might not be the successful candidate in November's election. He declined to give any consideration to this author's advice. His heart was set on becoming President for several reasons. His highly emotional reason was the manner President Roosevelt dismissed Ambassador Kennedy from his post in London. This author saw little of President John Kennedy after he read that draft of his August 25, 1960 address to the Zionist Organization of America's meeting.

President John F. Kennedy's own "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" was his election in November 1960 as the President of the United States. In that address President Kennedy said three times "Israel is here to stay" and "if elected" that he would use the armed forces of the United States to preserve the "political independence and territorial integrity" of the State of Israel. That address was his passport to the White House. Every demand made upon President Kennedy by the State of Israel received immediate consideration and prompt action.

General Dwight D. Eisenhower was not considered for the Democratic Party's candidate as President of the United States in 1948. Walter Winchell was assigned by Zionist higher-ups to put the brakes on his possible nomination by a nationwide radio broadcast. Walter Winchell killed any possibility of the nomination by broadcasting that General Eisenhower "would not have left so many boys in Europe," if General Eisenhower's sponsor, Mr. Thomas J. Watson, Sr., the founder of International Business Machines and its principal owner, had not "accepted the Order of the Iron Cross from Hitler." This author asked Mr. Watson if that was true. Mr. Watson then explained that as the President of the International Chamber of Commerce he formally accepted honorary orders from every member nation. Germany then happened to be a member in good standing in 1933 when he was President. General Eisenhower made his peace with the Zionists and was elected President of the United States in 1952. As consideration for their "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver," their effective support of his election, President Eisenhower sponsored his Joint Resolution to Congress on January 15, 1957, H.J. Res. 117, for aid to Zionists.

President Eisenhower's Joint Resolution, H.J. Res. 117, stated that the President of the United States "is authorized to employ the Armed Forces of the United States as he deems necessary." Section 5 of that Joint Resolution provides "this joint resolution shall expire when the President shall determine that the peace and security of the nations in the general area of the Middle East are reasonably assured by international conditions created by action of the United Nations or otherwise." As his reciprocity for their support in his election, President Eisenhower had the equivalent of a law enacted by the Congress "to assist in the strengthening and defense of" the State of Israel, fulfilling all pledges to Zionists.

President Eisenhower, when he was General of United States Armed Forces in Europe in World War II in 1941-1945, used the mightiest military force ever assembled in history to drive the German invaders out of France. The Zionists in the United States favored the use of the United States Armed Forces to drive Hitler's armies out of France. In 1957 President Eisenhower proposed using the United States Armed Forces "in the strengthening and defense" of the State of Israel. The State of Israel is an outcome of the invasion and conquest of Palestine by Zionist aggressors in 1948 just as France was the outcome of the invasion and conquest of France by the Germans in 1940. President Eisenhower's Joint Resolution, H.J. Res. 117 is valid proof of Zionist dictation of United States foreign policy. The Zionists again received full value for their "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" paid by them for aid to Zionists.

President Johnson liquidated his obligations for his "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" in a way not suspected by the Christian 93% of the United States population. In the June 19, 1967 issue of Newsweek, on page 36, Newsweek describes blow-by-blow how President Johnson personally masterminded the State of Israel's June 5, 1967 blitz against the United Arab Republic. That exhibition of President Johnson's loyalty to his Zionist supporters should compel every Christian of the 93% of the United States population to hide his face and hang his head in shame. President Johnson owed his presence in the White House as President of the United States to his Zionist friend of long standing, Mr. Abe Fortas. It was well publicized news when Mr. Abe Fortas late at night then secured his permanent restraining order from Supreme Court Justice Brennan. That permanent injunction restrained every court in the United States from taking further action on Governor Ferguson's challenge of President Johnson's alleged victory as the candidate in the primary election for the Texas seat in the United States Senate. Without going into the number of President Johnson's earlier defeats in those legal proceedings, President Johnson's prospect for a victory was very unfavorable. If Mr. Abe Fortas had not secured that United States Supreme Court injunction for President Johnson prohibiting any court in the United States from giving consideration to any legal action to nullify President Johnson's alleged victory, President Johnson may never have become Texas Senator, then Vice-President and finally not become President of the United States.

President Johnson may have looked forward to reciprocating the "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" which ended in his election as President of the United States. Mr. Abe Fortas was a dedicated Zionist. If President Johnson had other reasons for his interest in the State of Israel, he never made them public. President Johnson must have had strong convictions concerning the State of Israel, to mastermind their June 5, 1967 blitz against the United Arab Republic. Did President Johnson really believe in so doing he was serving the "best interests" of the United States? The long article in Newsweek's June 19, 1967 issue contains the following: "A tense mood of uncertainty gripped the White House in the first hours of fighting. The week before, the President had received a reassuring assessment of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who predicted that the Israelis would win the war within three or four days if they brought off the first air strikes. So skeptical was U.N. Ambassador Arthur Goldberg of this report, that Wheeler was sent to compare notes with CIA chief Richard Helms, who ratified the judgment. Still, until Israelis finally won their devastating victory through air power, there could be no certainty at the White House as the President rose each morning before dawn for the latest intelligence reports and called in his crisis command for long rounds of conferences." But that short quotation does not tell the full story.

The United States supplied the State of Israel with photographs and other intelligence which pinpointed every airbase and military center in the United Arab Republic. The United States Sixth Fleet stationed offshore used their secret electronic devices for jamming, putting out of use radar equipment of the United Arab Republic enabling airplanes of the State of Israel to conduct sneak attacks against every airbase in the United Arab Republic. Their sneak attacks duplicated the sneak attacks on Pearl Harbor by Japanese airplanes on December 7, 1941. These sneak attacks decided the successful outcome of their June 5, 1967 blitz within the first hour of their attack. The United States furthermore supplied the State of Israel for their sneak attacks with napalm bombs, with fragmentation bombs, with special rockets fitted with magnetic devices which attract rockets to the airplane engines, and with rocket-powered bombs designed expressly for destruction of airfield runways. That made it impossible to get any of the four hundred (400) United Arab Republic's airplanes off the ground. If he wishes that distinction, President Johnson can claim full credit for the State of Israel's "six day war" won against the United Arab Republic. Shortly before the June 5, 1967 blitz of the United Arab Republic, the State of Israel purchased twenty thousand (20,000) new gas masks from their German manufacturer to be used in the June 5, 1967 blitz with General J. H. Rothschild's LSD 25, which renders ground forces unconscious when sprayed with LSD 25 from airplanes by Zionist pilots wearing those gas masks.

As a classic double-cross and stab-in-the-back, in the weeks immediately prior to the June 5, 1967 blitz, President Johnson lulled the United Arab Republic into a false sense of security in the very week he planned the June 5, 1967 blitz with the State of Israel against the United Arab Republic. In that week President Johnson was awaiting the arrival of a leading Vice-President of the United Arab Republic whom President Johnson had invited to Washington as his personal guest to develop a closer friendship with the United Arab Republic. President Johnson gave wide publicity to the fact he was also immediately sending Vice-President Humphrey to Cairo to personally represent President Johnson, hoping to develop a more friendly relationship with the United Arab Republic. Before either of them had time to pack their bags for the trip, President Johnson surprised the world by announcing the blitz against the United Arab Republic by the State of Israel's bombers, the fleet's accessories marked "made in the U.S.A." That double-cross and stab-in-the-back directed by the United States will neither be forgiven nor forgotten by the nine hundred million (900,000,000) Moslems throughout the world who were trying at the time to forget and forgive the United States for unnecessarily dropping atomic bombs on two Japanese civilian populations.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt liquidated his obligations for his "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" by railroading the United States into World War II through the "back door." President Roosevelt's Zionist supporters demanded that the United States, to serve their purpose, again enter a European war, in this instance to silence Adolph Hitler. Zionists saw no reason why this could not be done again in World War II with President Roosevelt as they did it in World War I with President Wilson. In 1940 Germany had not yet forgotten the defeat Germany experienced in 1918 in World War I, only because the United States was railroaded into that war by Zionist pressure on President Woodrow Wilson. Germany exercised every precaution in World War II to avoid providing the United States with justification to declare war against Germany. Germany felt certain it would mean defeat again for Germany if the United States was railroaded into World War II as Great Britain's ally. For his "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver," President Roosevelt saw no escape from his obligation to Zionists to get into the war in Europe against Germany. President Roosevelt did not find it as simple as President Wilson found it to railroad the United States into World War I. The only door President Roosevelt found open through which to railroad the United States into the war in Europe was through the "back door" of Japan. President Roosevelt schemed long and hard but finally discovered how to get into the war in Europe through that "back door." He did not hesitate very long.

The illustrious Mr. Henry L. Stimson was President Roosevelt's Secretary of War in the Cabinet in 1941. Secretary Stimson kept a personal diary in which he made his entries in his own handwriting. Secretary Stimson recorded in his diary his visit to the White House on November 25, 1941, two weeks before the blitz attack on Pearl Harbor by Japan. In it Secretary Stimson described how he and other Cabinet members were suddenly called to the White House that morning. President Roosevelt did not even mention the war in Europe. He confined his talk with the members of his Cabinet present only to Japan. President Roosevelt informed them that he wanted war with Japan but he did not want it to appear that the United States fired the first shot. How to do it was his problem. When the United States Senate investigated the Pearl Harbor attack, many Senators knew about Secretary Stimson's diary and his entry for November 25, 1941. They demanded that Secretary Stimson's diary be introduced into evidence. Over the strong objections of other Senators who also knew the story, Secretary Stimson's diary was introduced in the hearing. The page in Secretary Stimson's diary for November 25, 1941 is in the printed record of the United States Senate investigation of the Pearl Harbor attack. Any interested person may inspect it. Secretary Stimson left all his personal papers to Yale University where any interested person can see his diary. This author has seen both the United States Senate Report on Pearl Harbor and the diary anyone can see at Yale University.

President Roosevelt was aware at that time that Germany and Japan had a mutual defense treaty. That treaty provided if either Japan or Germany went to war with a third power the other party to their mutual defense treaty automatically was at war with that same third power. By provoking Japan to commit an act of war against the United States to justify a declaration of war against Japan, the United States would also be at war with Germany. In one of the most carefully documented books ever written, Professor Charles Callan Tansill, the eminent Professor of American History of Georgetown University, provides the world with six hundred and fifty-two (652) pages of authenticated documentary evidence from the State Department's confidential files exposing President Roosevelt's guilt for railroading the United States into World War II against Germany and Japan to liquidate his indebtedness to his Zionist cohorts for his "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver." Professor Tansill's classic is called "Back Door to War." Professor Tansill labored five years in the confidential files of the State Department examining thousands of documents establishing President Roosevelt's responsibility for railroading the United States into World War II. Professor Tansill's documented evidence supplies proof how President Roosevelt twisted Japan's arm to leave Japan with no alternative except their sneak attack on Pearl Harbor. The Christian 93% of the United States population paid a big price in lives and dollars so Zionists throughout the world could vent their spleen against Germany for their defiance of Zionist aims.

The total cost in lives and dollars to the Christian 93% of the United States population, to oppose Zionist claims to Palestine, will cost many million lives billions of dollars. That is only a small fraction of the lives that will be lost and the trillions of dollars it will cost the Christian 93% of the entire United States population to continue serving as the accomplice of Zionists, aiding and abetting thieves to hold onto their stolen plunder. This threat to United States security and survival would not exist today if political and religious leaders shared their knowledge on this subject with the Christian 93% of the United States population instead of keeping it their secret for "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver." That secret is the key to the mystery why the United States is today standing on the brink of the world war which is looming on the horizon. The complete history of that secret is very long.

The Rothschild dynasty formulated the policy responsible for the Middle East situation today. The Rothschilds' plan was to gain control of Palestine, first as a member of the British empire, and after the British empire's demise, as an independent sovereign state. The Rothschilds actually had plans drawn to build a canal from Ashkelon on the Mediterranean to Elath on the Gulf of Aqaba, to rival the Suez Canal. With the formation of the United Nations in 1945, they planned to make Palestine a member of the United Nations. That would give Palestine international recognition and security. The construction of a modern two-way canal from Ashkelon to Elath is the real reason the Rothschild dynasty literally poured billions of dollars into their Palestine venture. When they failed to steal Palestine from its Christian and Moslem inhabitants between 1920 and 1948, they ordered Zionist aggression against Palestine. The name Palestine then became State of Israel. The Christian and Moslem indigenous population was then scattered far and wide.

The Rothschild dynasty has constructed a pipe-line between Ashkelon and Elath for transmission of petroleum. That is their route for their new canal. The Rothschild dynasty has poured billions of dollars into Palestine because without access to the Far East they cannot maintain their importance in world affairs. The wealth of the Rothschild dynasty lies in the Far East, Africa, Australia, New Zealand and other Far East territories. It can be said without the fear of contradiction by the Rothschild dynasty that if it is necessary to fight another world war to preserve the State of Israel's existence, they will promote World War III for that purpose. Great Britain is a small overpopulated island in the North Sea serving as headquarters for the Rothschild dynasty's worldwide operations. The importance they place upon control of the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba is the fact that without the Gulf of Aqaba their Ashkelon-Elath canal becomes meaningless.

A question the Christian 93% of the United States population must ask themselves is this, shall the United States be drawn into another world war to protect and preserve the wealth of the Rothschild dynasty? The United States is seriously discussing a settlement of the Middle East problem. It is now costing the world a million dollars a minute to help crooks hold onto their stolen plunder in Palestine. The Middle East oil producing countries have just obtained an increase in the prices paid to them for their oil. And why not? The Middle East oil-producing countries are compelled to spend billions for defense against United States-Rothschild-Zionist aggression. Why should they be asked to spend thirty-five per cent (35%) of their budget for defense? They need that money for developing their countries, for their schools, their hospitals, their roads, etc., etc., and other national needs. When they ask for higher prices for their oil to cover their defense budgets, they should not be regarded as criminals. If the Middle East oil countries could eliminate from their budgets the cost for their defense against Zionist aggression, they would willingly reduce the prices they now ask for their oil.

The root of the trouble lies in the "thirty (dirty) pieces of silver" which are sometimes so indirectly remitted to political and religious leaders in the United States that they themselves can never know who is rewarding them for their obedience to their unseen Zionist masters. It is unfair to the Christian 93% of the United States population to ask them to pick up the check for the costs imposed upon the United States for Zionist wars. Every dollar spent for propaganda by Zionists is another seed planted for the revolution that will mature when the Christian 93% of the United States population learns why the United States is again fighting in another Zionist world war.

This author appeals to every reader of this article to order as many copies as his or her pocketbook will permit. Circulate them to your political and religious leaders. Let them see that you know how they have failed you. Buy as many as you can afford. One of the copies you circulate may prove the straw that breaks the camel's back. This may be your last chance to stop what you do not wish to see happen. Do it for yourself, your children, your friends and for your country. Let your conscience be your guide. Do not let this be another case of too little and too late. Obey that impulse.
