ON THE POLICE BEAT

'Eye' Was Alert; Suspect Nabbed

By JACK DEMPSEY

Leave it to William "Bill" Gurvich, veteran private eye, to be, as they say in the police vernacular, "where the action is!"

Gurvich, who heads a detective agency, was in Baton Rouge last week for the annual Louisiana Peace Officers Association convention, and nabbed a suspect in a theft case.

He aided Baton Rouge officers in arresting a 46-year-old woman who was subsequently booked for theft of antiques from Nell Fetzer's Interiors, 342 Lafayette, in the state capital.

JACK DEMPSEY

Gurvich said he became suspicious of the woman when he first saw her in a drug store shortly before the report of the theft became known.

He noticed that the woman appeared quite nervous and he got the feeling she was "casing the place."

After he left the store he went for a ride with Lafourche Parish Sheriff Eddie Ste. Marie and Baton Rouge police officers I. D. Andrepont and Edward Pierce.

Then they received the description of a woman wanted for the antique theft, and Gurvich realized the description fit the woman he had seen in the drug store a short while earlier.

Her arrest quickly followed. The arresting officers found two of the antiques allegedly stolen in the woman's purse—a miniature owl and a miniature set of dice.

POLICEMAN-SCHOLAR-AUTHOR: Ptn. Irvin L. Magri Jr., a senior at Loyola University in the police department-sponsored Criminology course, has completed writing the book he's been working on for the past two years. It will be published soon and will bear the title: "Major Problems of the American Police." Some of his chapter titles are quite topical, such as: "Organized Revolt—Rioting," "Recent Supreme Court Decisions," "Narcotics Addiction," "Civilian Review Boards, Pro and Con," "Juvenile Delinquency," "Offense Against Persons," and "A Possible Solution To The Crime Problem in the U.S." Author Magri cites from actual crime cases locally and has utilized clippings from the States-Item and The Times-Picayune.

BADGES OF THE WEEK: Ptn. William Delaney and Ptn. Marcel David made back-to-back captures of burglary suspects on Thursday and Friday. On Thursday they captured two suspects a short while after they allegedly broke into a Lake Vista residence, shot and wounded a maid in the house. On Friday they nabbed two suspects in posses-

NO SMOKE — NO FIRE: Understand there was a fire drill at the Postoffice the other day. One of the postal employees had just sat down to eat and did not get up with the others who filed out of the building. They chided him about his contemps but he was unyielding. "I wasn't about to leave this 95 cents lunch. Besides I don't smell smoke."

Mr. Joseph I. Giarrusso
Superintendent of Police
New Orleans Police Department
New Orleans, Louisiana 70119

Dear Superintendent Giarrusso:

Re [REDACTED]

I have been informed by Agents of this office that during the evening of January 27, 1969, and the early morning hours of January 28, 1969, Lt. Raymond Comstock aided FBI Agents of the New Orleans Office in the apprehension of [REDACTED] b7C
[REDACTED] A Federal fugitive.

Lt. Comstock was working in cooperation with Special Agent Richard L. Sloan of this office during the evening of January 27, 1969. The two men were working on a matter of mutual interest concerning [REDACTED] a Federal escapee, who had been sentenced at New Orleans, Louisiana, for a bank robbery. It was during this time that Agent Sloan and Lt. Comstock were contacted by another Agent of this office who requested assistance in the apprehension of [REDACTED] b7C

The investigation with reference to [REDACTED] extended into the morning hours of January 28, 1969, and Lt. Comstock unselfishly accompanied Agent Sloan during the period of time [REDACTED] was being sought. b7C

[REDACTED] was apprehended at approximately 5:30 a.m., on January 28, 1969, and it was in no small measure through the devotion to duty and manner in which Lt. Comstock unhesitatingly accompanied by Agents through the course of their investigation. b7C

As you know, it is through the alertness, dedication and ability of such officers as Lt. Raymond Comstock that such criminals are brought to justice, and the aims, as well as the objectives of both our agencies are met.

I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you and your department, and to thank Lt. Comstock for the excellent cooperation afforded this Bureau.

Very truly yours,

R. E. RIGHTMYER
