Dear Mike,

Gunn us a Hiltonhead, S.C.

I'll be getting and sending you some things. May have to await my return from a short trip. It will, I hope, include parts of not all of the document Ford quoted on the TV show you saw and I missed.

Les phoned today, his first back in the office. The flu hit him very hard and he is still weak. We'll be keeping in touch on this.

Gary Cohen was to have called me back but my phone was busy all afternoon on a consultancy I have that has taken painful work, much of both, so he would not have been able to get through until after 7.

He had a call from his anonymous source after the column appeared.

I believe that anonymity also befits you now.

Les knows that when he did not return my call and nobody else did I approached a friend on the Enquirer. (I learned today he is on a short vacation.) He also knows that if they do not go to work on it (and they'd make a much greater investment in time and money and manpower) I'll be in touch with him. I said after I return from next week's trip.

Hastily,
