Hon. John Conyers
House of Representatives

Dear John,

Thanks for your letter and the efforts you and your staff made to get me copies of the assassins committee's published materials.

I take it as a tribute to the respect in which they hold you and your integrity that these people do not inform you fully and if my information is correct, even honestly.

They accounted for only 3/4 of the so-called King (really Ray) volumes they had published some time ago, they do not account for a third category, administrative and legislative, and I understand that the relatively small printing order included a set for each Member.

There is to be one additional "King" volume, making a total of 13. The entire set is to be 27.

If you should obtain a set, please do not reserve them for me. Any effort I made months before asking your help materialized and I do not need them. However, because they begin scarce they will become valuable. For me they hold only negative values, aside from the completeness of the archive I will leave.

Do not misread my not having been by to say "hello." I never go to Washington any more except for medical or legal purposes. My health has deteriorated, it is unwise for me to drive that distance, little as it is, so I concentrate on trying to force the mountain to labor. So far it has birthed more than a mouse. And I have it laboring still.

But at the same time it enables them to keep me so tied up I can't find time to put it all together.

If you ever get near here I'd like to show you some of it. You won't find ^{any of it} in the volumes you could not get.

Many thanks and all best wishes,

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Harold:

Thank you for your letter of April 23rd and request for assistance in obtaining copies of the House Assassinations Committee report.

I have learned that the volumes, as indicated on the attached, are obtainable from the Government Printing Office, but are quite costly. I assume these volumes would be available for reading through the Library of Congress, although they may require the reader to stay on the premises. Unfortunately, I cannot obtain copies at this point, which I would gladly turn over to you.

Let me know if I can be of further assistance.

Sincerely,

John Conyers
