Dear Mr. Weisberg,

I just received a letter from your the day before yesterday, and I was never so surprised in my life! When you said you were sending me a copy of PHOTOGRAPHIC WHITEWASH, I could have fallen off of my chair! I was very sorry to hear about your troubles with Dell, but I was also happy to hear that you are negotiating with another company.

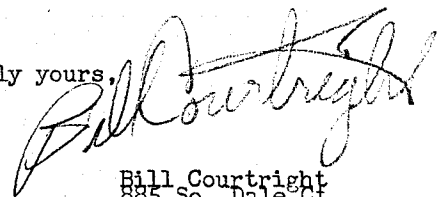

I haven't got the copy of PHOTOGRAPHIC WHITEWASH yet, but I felt I must sit down and write a thank you note. When your letter came, I was talking to three other kids about the Warren Report. They were just as excited as I was, so don't be surprised if you sell a few copies to people in my immediate area!

Yes, my quotation of Curry was directly from Charles Roberts' book, THE THRUTH ABOUT THE ASSASSINATION. If it was in error, it was HIS error. However, as you said, it makes no difference to the question involved. I think he really thought the shots came from the front.

I must also thank you for telling me about the people Mark Lane referred to on Capital records' "The Controversy". I just got some news about Mr. Lane that you probably already know about, but I'll tell you anyway. Jim Garrison has asked Lane to accept the position of Assistant District Attorney of New Orleans, and to present part of the case to the jury, in February. I got the information from a news director in Denver.

Thank you again for sending me a copy of PHOTOGRAPHIC WHITEWASH, and when it arrives I will treasure it.

Sincerely yours,

Bill Courtright
