Cuba Holds 4 on Downed Plane; Questions Costa Rican on Raids

HAVANA, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Government announced today that it was holding a Costa Rican, his American wife and two Nicaraguans after forcing their plane down in southeastern Cuba with antiaircraft fire. The newspaper El Mundo said Teodoro Picado Jr., son of a former Costa Rican President, was being questioned to determine whether he had taken part in counterrevolutionary raids on Cuba.

The paper said the authorities had determined that Mr. Picado, a friend of the Somoza family, was a CIA agent and arms supplier from Cuban exiles in Central America. Mr. Picado was a student at the United States Military Academy. His wife is the former Susan Moir, an English teacher.

El Mundo said Mr. Picado was linked to Gen. Anastasio Somoza, Jr., the son of the former National Guard chief and brother of the former Nicaraguan President Luis Somoza. But the newspaper said the man was trying to defect to the United States.

The newspaper said the plane had been forced down after flying nonstop from the Costa Rican city of Cartago, 100 miles southeast of Havana, last Wednesday. The plane made no emergency signal before plane was downed.

It indicated Mr. Picado as having said he had been forced to fly nonstop because of a storm over Cuba to "wind up" a flight from British Honduras to Miami.

Others aboard the plane were identified as Emilia Bonilla, secretary to General Somoza, and Ramon Jacinto Herrera, Cordoba.

Cuban authorities have been unable to determine whether they (the passengers) have any participation in the trip. Picado made to buy arms, and they would be only obtained through him," El Mundo said. Cuban authorities are continuing the investigation to determine if Picado has had any participation in recent flights against Cuba."

The newspaper said Mr. Picado had studied with Mr. Somoza, who was Moir that August.

at West Point "and is his partner in a muddy business."

The paper also said Mr. Picado carried a checkbook bearing the name Somoza.

"After questioning and confiscation of documents," it added, "Cuban authorities believe Picado was using Somoza's name to supply arms to counterrevolutionary groups operating in Central America."

Mr. Picado reportedly had a Cuban agent trained by the Pentagon had been recruited by a CIA-trained defector, Capt. Benjamin Acosta Vides, and the execution was carried out secretly.

The newspaper said Acosta Vides had been seized while en route to a CIA espionage center in Miami. It claimed that he had been sent to Cuba by the Pentagon to obtain information about defectors.

Mr. Picado was born in 1936 in San Jose, Costa Rica. Some 15 years ago he became a co-pilot of an airplane two-engine plane apparently forced to land in Cuba during a flight to Miami. He remained in Cuba in poor condition today.

This report came from Rene Pintado Biquete, a cousin of Mr. Picado. He said he arrived yesterday from Managua, Nicaragua. The pilot and the passenger were in a hotel and would be allowed to leave Cuba but he did not know when.

Picado Led Costa Rican Coup

Many Cubans opposed to Premier Fidel Castro are believed to be operating from Nicaragua, which lies about 500 miles southwest of Cuba.

Mr. Picado was a leader of a revolt against President Jose Figueres in Costa Rica in January, 1958. With United States support, Mr. Figueres won.

Mr. Figueres succeeded Mr. Picado's father in the Presidency in 1948 after a civil war.

Mr. Picado was in the United States at this time. He attended Herbert Hoover High School in Glendale, Calif., and later went to West Point. He was graduated in June, 1961, and he married in August.
