One of the FBI agents testi-fied that Cornillot, before his arrest, "said the explosives came from the CIA, the Central Intelligence Agency, and he stated that this was the original source and that it did not come directly from the CIA.'

Castillo said that after the Bay of Pigs invasion, explosives could be found anywhere in the

could be found anywhere in the Miami area. "Many of the Cubans who were sent on this invasion never actually went," he testified. "We found they went to small islands near Cuba where they buried all of these weapons, knowing them could go back later and sell them.'

Castillo said Cornillot said he was part of the military unit that took part in the Bay of Pigs invasion in Cuba. The FBI agents said Cornillot told them he was a member of "Los Subversivos," an action group of the militant "Cuban Power Or-ganization." The bombed Los Angeles buildings were the government of Mexico tourist department of fice on Wilshire Boulevard, the Air France Airlines Office on W. Seventh Street, Japan Air Lines office on W.
