

Dear Ed,

3/10/90

Back in 1973, with the first energy crisis, I became aware of the many ways in which we are extravagant with energy, wasting so much of it. Since then I've been reusing paper that has a clean side when I can, usually in drafts but also where it won't give offense. I'm using this with you for another purpose: as you get older and need exercise and it is prohibited by weather, go to a nearby mall and walk. The one near us was bought by the DeBartolos and they are the last in the area to make even a gesture at being considerate of the patients who are sent to malls to walk by their doctors. If you are not yet that old, regular walking exercise is still good for you and provides thinking time. It does take a hunk out of my day every day but I don't resent it. Hope your health is good!

From your note of the fifth you are into many things and appear to be ^{keep you} at least as busy as one could hope to be. But they are with matters that now are not of interest to me because I don't have time for those things that are.

Yes, it was Lars Hansen. I'd forgotten the first name.

Thanks for the offer of the Goodman videocassette but I'd not look at it and would merely add it to the nut stuff for archival purposes. It is nutty as hell and it serves the wrong purpose of deceiving and misleading people.

Hansen's clip, as I thought I'd told you, is merely a very poor and entirely misrepresented segment of a bad copy of the Zaoruder film. No value or meaning at all.

I don't subscribe to any of the newsletters at all so I can't tell you anything about Jerry Rose's. He appears to be a very fine and concerned and yes, dedicated man. Met him only once. Almost all those people go in for theorizing without an adequate factual basis and I don't want to get involved in nay theorizing about whodunit.

You refer to getting information from Cooper. It won't be information, not from anything of his I've seen.

If you only spin your wheels with him you'll be lucky.

I don't know anything at all about Hansen and I don't now remember where I saw the name.

I've not heard from Walter Glanze in some time but last + heard he had become a lexicographer and was keeping busy with dictionaries.

Best wishes,
