

6/4/73

Dear Al,

There is something I should not have forgotten and have forgotten, for more than six years. It has just come back to me.

You may remember that in Oswald in New Orleans I refer to a speech made by Sergio Carbo (whose son was captured in The Bay of Pigs) at the 1963 convention of the InterAmerican Press Association, held in Miami. From the accounts I had available, it seemed to be either a threat against JFK or a prediction of his assassination.

I asked the IPA for copies but they claimed all their copies were given out. I think they said copies are in the Library of Congress, but it is difficult for me to get there when I am in Washington. There are always other things I must then do.

I assume copies are in the New York Public Library. If not, they are on file at the IPA, 667 Madison Ave., Suite # 704.

DON'T make any special trip anywhere on this. Instead, when you are in the library again, please see if you can get a copy of their report or of the speeches. The Carbo speech is the one of which I know I would like the full text. There may be other Cuban speeches that might be of interest.

If this is not in the Library, the IPA should have the full texts on file.

Because this is political and Joe is more political-minded than you, if he has not gone back to Italy, he might be better for this, if we have to go to IPA's offices.

I don't know if there is any connection between Carbo and the Watergate Cubans. I assume they share the same political beliefs, farout, man!

There is nothing new here. We stay too busy, with not enough time for anything that keeps us busy because there are too many of them. I never quite catch up on mowing the grass, there is that much of it! We got into the pool for the first time yesterday. I have it chemically pure, fit for swimming, but I don't yet have all the leaves out of it. Hot as it is today, I look forward to a dip when Lil gets home. She is a witness in a trial today (and tomorrow-and is unhappy about it).

Angie's boss may be interested in knowing that as best I can figure out the special kind of language they use in their abbreviated English, the court of appeals is having an en banc review of my suit that was reported in the Vesey St. letter he gave her. Without new arguments. My lawyer sent me a copy of the order without any explanation. Busy as he now is, I haven't asked him for an interpretation or explanation. Whatever happens - and I expect to win again - it will go to the Supreme Court and will be precedent under that law.

Our best to you all.

Sincerely,
