JEANE DIXON'S MID-YEAR PREDICTIONS

There is no more busier woman in Washington than Jeane Dixon. Her daily schedule looks like a train schedule for the Pennsylvania Railroad. On July 14th, for instance, she will be appearing at a Shady Grove benefit, with Arthur Godfrey hosting. Yet with her heavy scheduling, she still has time to make her predictions. This time, some of her predictions make very interesting reading.

"Ethel Kennedy," she says, "whom I greatly admire, will re-marry. Her bridegroom will be someone she had known for a while. However, she will always be a member of the 'Kennedy Clan' because of her children and because she will remain active in the facets of the universe as she did when Sen. Kennedy was alive."

"I feel the Kennedy machinations stronger than ever. Sen. Kennedy will get the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination; however, there are potent, dangerous vibrations around him which could alter the course of his life."

The most startling news this year, Jeane Dixon feels, will be during the month of August.

"Queen Elizabeth," she predicts, "will abdicate to make Charles King before he is a middle-aged man."

"Immorality and obscenity have not reached their peak. They will become worse and sweep the world." (I hope she's kidding.)

Of Frank Sinatra she says, "He has mystical vibrations, but also practical thought pertaining to some political movement. He will write for an outstanding periodical and into his article he will weave his own personal views. I get that this will be good."

"Mr. Sinatra is very religious, he has devout faith within his soul, but manages to hide it from the public."

About superstar, Barbra Streisand: "She is a 'natural' in her profession. She will eventually reach out to other countries. . . Her second marriage will be more successful than her first. I get that her first marriage was a bit impulsive." (Aren't they all?)

Of King Constantine and Queen Anne-Marie of Greece: "I get that this royal couple is having problems and will have unhappy news to announce."

"I see there will continue to be much confusion and speculation in this matter," she says in regard to James Earl Ray. "Ray will not be freed at this time, but he is not the assassin of Dr. Martin Luther King. I see there will be much more evidence revealed on the co-conspirators. . .startling evidence. . .with ties leading outside of the country."

These are a few of the predictions that Jeane Dixon has made that were published in the Washington Daily News. Go out and see her in person on July 14th at Shady Grove. . .and learn what she sees hovering in the future.
