Ethics Group to Delve Into Dodd's Finances

By Richard Harwood Washington Post Staff Writer

Thomas J. Dodd (D.-Conn.) ings. will be explored in public The Dodd investigation was inspired by the allegations of Ethics Committee after the Pearson and Jack Anderson new Congress convenes in January.

The Committee said the hearings will deal with Dodd's receipt and use of hundreds of thousands of dollars in political contributions and with charges that he has cheated on his expense accounts.

The Committee's announcement vesterday ended speculation about its determination to pursue the Dodd ethics case beyond last summer's inquiry into his relationship with foreign lobbyist Julius Klein.

Dodd responded to the Committee's announcement with a prediction that he would be vindicated.

"The record will show," he said, "that there was no misuse of any funds, campaign or testimonial, on my part. If there was any error in the handling of travel expenses this was the work of an incompetent and deceitful exemploye."

Dodd implied that the charges against him are related in some way to his career in the Senate. "I have made many powerful political enemies," he said, "running all the way from the Communists to the gun gang."

The Committee's staff has been collecting documents and sworn statements dealing with Dodd's money affairs since mid-summer. Sufficient facts have been uncovered, the Committee said yesterday,

The financial affairs of Sen. "to provide a basis for hear-hearings before the Senate newspaper columnists Drew

See DODD, A7, Col. 1

DODD-From Page AI

Probe of Dodd's Financial Affairs Scheduled for January by Senate

paign funds, had abused his which at least $200,000 was the direction of Sen. John and had been "an errand boy" to Dodd. for lobbyist Klein and others with a stake in government ice began an investigation terday they are now prepared expense account privileges, classified as "personal gifts" Stennis (D-Miss.) and Sen.

The Internal Revenue Serv-

Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah).

The two Senators said yes-Records available up to now indicate that the Senator reFederal taxation.

Investigation terday they are now prepared to publicly explore "allegations that Senator Dodd improperly diverted". indicate that the Senator received on the order of $500, simultaneously, a "painstak-funds, accepted improper ingly and unavoidably slow" gifts, and was paid both by properly diverted campaign funds, accepted improper 000 in political contributions investigation was instituted by the Senate and by private between 1961 and 1965, of the Ethics Committee, under sources for identical travel."