George and Jeanne De Mohrenschildt flew back from Heiti to testify.

They had befriended the Oswalds in Dallas and Fot. Worth. Even bafore the left Heiti they were in trouble because of the investigation. The Heitian dictator, fearing

afraidumf his own assassination, the De Mohrenschildts feared, would cancel the contract in which more than a quarter of a million dol are were involved.

In De Mohrenschildts words, "And now he associates me, being very scared of essessimation, with a staff of international assassins, and I am about to be expelled for from the country. My contracts may be broken... Supposedly, President Duvelier received a letter from Weshington. Now, this is unofficial - one of the ministers informed me of that - in which this letter satates I was a close friend of Oswald's, that I am a Polich Communist animatix a mamber of an international bend." The American Ambassador in Heiti was using his goof arrives offices to satisfy the Heitien government. ( SH167) with test or secrecy and saused indury. She and her hauband were hoping to complete their appearances in time to fly to Philadelphia in time to see a judge so they could visit his daughter by a pervious marriage. They had been told, "Under the chromatences, you are forbidien to see your child". By the time the FEI got

Mrs. DeMohrenschildt got was "this time George (De Mohrenschildt) did something wery big".

The Commission's essistant general counsel said, "Well, he didn't."

Mrs. De Mohrenshhildt then told him, "Well, that is what is happeneing..."

She went into further details and asked if the TBI were sent to question them sgain, "do it in a more discreet way....You hurt us wery much for no reason at all. ... That is what happens. How can we evoid it? How Can it be stopped."

"We will see what we can do about it," she was promised. (9H330)
