Belourenschidt, CBs 549:1, 550:1; 552:1; 553:1, 554:1

Of these, the only ones of which I have other pages is 554, of which I have 54, 55, 56, 57, of which I believe 54 and 55 also do.

I am, naturally, in a minority, viewing him as something less than a sinister character.

These summary pages reflect, in part, the urgency of the FBI investigation of him, and its facility, beginning with the Communist orientation - his use is of a business partner of one of our agents.

These summaries, as I recall the other documents I have seen, bring provide of worthwhile relations in the balance of the files.

One thing I note to you is that the last portion of interest in this activity is of a narrow period of time, early 1964.
