Dear Mrs. Enot:

My husband is currently on a trip to the west coast and I do not expect him home for at least another ten days or so.

We do have another book in manuscript but have not been able to dredge up enough funds to have it printed. It is titled POST-MORTEM and is on the suppression of the autopsy evidence. We'll be glad to let you know when it is available.

The latest information I have on the Shaw trial is that the defense attorneys are expected to request a change of venue to take it outside of New Orleans, and it will probably not start until late March or early April. As you can imagine, the defense is using every means at its disposal to postpone and delay.

I don't know whether or not Mr. Jones will attend the trial; if it is possible, I suspect he will. Garrison's office has asked Harold to be there, but he has not made a final decision yet on whether or not he will attend. It comes back to the same old question - finances.

We also saw the Carson show. The impression I got was that Carson was totally uninformed except for what information had been fed him for that particular program. A friend in Calif. called to tell me that he had kept box score on the number of interruptions by Carson and they tallied 58 times for a total of 60 questions. In the space of a scant hour with all the commercials that had to be fitted in, it is a wonder that Jim Garrison was able to say as much as he did. And the audience seemed to be wholly with him.

Harold would have answered your letter himself had he been at home; in his absence, I am pinch-hitting.

Sincerely,

Lillian Weisberg

Dear Mr. Harold Weisberg;

I have just finished reading your books and they leave so many doubts in my mind I am hoping you will have another book out on the Assassination soon.

We are waiting tonight to watch James Garrison on TV. Will you be attending the trial of Clay Shaw when it comes up....if it ever does? I was told not to long ago that it would probably be some time in February of this year. I have written to Mr. Garrison to see if he could give me some idea when it will be as I would very much like to attend it. I suppose I should say me and a couple of million others would like to attend.

If you have any information as to when the trial may be I'd appreciate it very much. Knowing the DA's office will be very busy prior to the trial and might not get around to answering my letter in time for me to make arrangements to be there, if you would let me know in case you know already I'd appreciate it very much.

I have just written to Penn Jones to see if he is planning to attend, for if by chance I do get there and he is going to be there at least there would be someone there I could say at least I knew.

Thanking you in advance for anything you can tell me, I remain,

Very Truly Yours,

Mrs. Robert V. Enot

We saw the misfortunate Carson Show. I guess what we fail to realize, anyone opposed to the Warren Commission will not get Coverage through any news media that does them any good. I only wish Mr. Garrison had asked Mr. Carson if he had ever read the Report...as even that will tell you point blank it is concealing the truth and constantly contradicts itself. Anyone who has ever read it could not possibly emerge still believing it to be the truth....oh I get so mad when things like this happens.
