Attention Chief Executive:

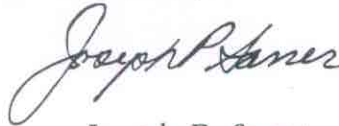

Your business name and the assigned Dun & Bradstreet rating appear in our Reference Book as a service to you as well as organizations with which you are currently, or may contemplate, doing business.

In the absence of any recently expressed interest in your business from our subscribers we are asking you to decide whether the listing should be continued at this time. An essential ingredient of your Dun & Bradstreet rating is a recent financial statement. If you wish to provide us with one we will continue the listing of your business in our Reference Book. There is, of course, no charge to you for this service.

We hope your preference is to remain listed and toward that end will provide us with a financial statement -- but if not, please be assured that we will reinstate the business name and the appropriate rating should the requirements of your business make this desirable.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Joseph P. Saner
Vice President
