Dear Harold:

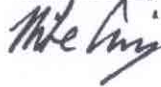

Thank you for sending the transcript so promptly. I have made a copy and am enclosing your original.

I do think you are an irascible, unreasonable, and scrappy character, but I enjoyed your letter anyway.

I am enclosing a check for $25.00 which I hope you will accept for your inconvenience and time in handling my request for the transcript. Like I say, I do know that a favor like this takes up more time than a lot of people realize.

Good luck on your work on the JFK case, as well as the King. The Ray brothers certainly need some help at this point.

Sincerely,

Thanks for the thoughtfulness, which I appreciate.

When you invent evidence, as with how Oswald was bailed, and enlarge greatly upon that and are unaware of it and much ^{else} like it, naturally you find criticism unreasonable.

Too bad you did not learn your Braden lesson. How a reasonable mind can accept anything in Noyes' book without question is beyond me.

I don't mind your opinions. But when you can lay any serious factual error to me please do that.

Including in my criticism of your/Moldea's work.
