Dear Mr. Shelton,

Enclosed is the list of the book I published.

In response to your questions, I know nothing about Harry Weatherford allegedly on the roof of the Records building. Penn Jones reported that years ago. Penn was not always dependable.

That whole Roscoe White business is falsified and meaningless. Some of it comes from a novel.

I know nothing about any <sup>my</sup> army or air force officers at the Bethesda morgue the night of the assassination.

I believe that none of these has any assassination relevance.

All the films in which you are interested are covered by copyright and I do not know where copies are available. Bronson's I believe is not available. It does refute what Howard Danahue made up, but so does the Zapruder film.

I have never understood why the Secret Service was silent in response to that fabrication particularly because of the state of Hickey's health. He has filed suit.

Robert Groden is among those who have copies of the autopsy film but I know nothing about availability.

Thanks for your letter.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Mr. Weisberg;

I hope that this letter finds you in better health than you have related in your most recent books. It would certainly be a great loss to the research community if you were unable to continue your work. In any event, despite whatever physical infirmities you must endure, it is obvious to all of us who read your works that your mental faculties are working at one hundred percent! I look forward to another book from you; I hope that you have plans for one and are able to complete it.

I recently completed your Case Open and Never Again. I do remember reading Whitewash (the original in the series) when it first became available, but I was just a junior in high school and the subject did not stay with me as I wish it had. I seem to be making up for lost time, as I have read about seven books on the assassination in the last six months. I breezed through the Warren Report in three nights, not reading every word, but enough to reinforce what I learned from the other books.

I agree with your critique of Mr. Posner's book Case Closed. Even as a fledgling "researcher" I noticed a lot of discrepancies. It seems that he even cribbed his dedication; it is almost word for word identical to Jim Bishop's dedication in The Day Kennedy Was Shot.

There are a few areas which I would like to dig into for my own satisfaction. These are areas which other writers mention but do not seem to know very much about. I am sure that your other books will contain some or all of what I am seeking, or at the very least, you can point me in the right direction. These areas are;

1. Sherriff's deputy Harry Weatherford, and what he was doing on the roof of the Records Building. Any and all info possible on this man.
2. Any and all information re Roscoe White; alleged CIA ties, military history, what have you.
3. Identity and background of the "Army or Air Force" major who was supposed to have been brought into the Bethesda morgue the same night as President Kennedy, but was not logged into the records. A photo of him might prove interesting.

4. Availability of copies or stills of the pertinent films; Zapruder, Muchmore, Nix, and especially Bronson. The Bronson film is interesting to me because it allegedly exonerates S. A. George Hickey, the alleged shooter in Mortal-Error. I thought Donahue had an interesting theory, ballistically, and found it odd that the publisher supposedly got no response to their challenge to the Secret Service et al. They allegedly said that they would not publish if evidence could prove them wrong. It seems strange that they would allow one of their own agents to endure such accusations if such evidence were at hand and could stop that book.
5. Availability of other photographs taken at Bethesda which show what the morgue looks like. This might clarify claims that the autopsy material is fake and was produced elsewhere.

Well, that is about all I will burden you with, and if you will kindly send me an order form for your other books I will be happy to buy them for my "library". I agree with you that this case cannot be at this time "solved", outside of the almost certainly non existant smoking gun type of evidence. What a shame. This is not the country I once thought I grew up in.

Best Wishes,

Charles Fisher
