Dear sary,
In the rush with winch I do something, too of ton I ay f ret dotails. Becavee I had heard so litile from you rocently, I Iear I dion't send you copies of my letters to Boges. is soen as he spoko out I did writa his, sugesting and offering to prove that he and the members of the Convission were bud, mostily by liouvar and the FBI. I also sent a stmilar letter to an editorial uxite on the Fashington Post. And I did aive
"this correspondence, as I ususlly do when things not urgontly confasontial ars favolved. As you know, you hove chided me for my oponnes, ant + presune you are awaro of the contrary fiction rether carefully foisted by others.

Not watil Boacs' specoh yestarday and the rather inadquate electronic-inctia responge (I've not yet sean the a.m. papars), did it sudionly copa to me that, as in the past, some of the wall-reanint underinformed atmony us might taike this idea and seek to estaloit if for thair own purpose, which in all earlier cases ax so executed as to olininate me. Inter slia this is usuclly self-justipled with tha concoling fiation tiat i constder that i havo a monopoly, dou't share of detede confide, otc. Some of these that I have datected in the past and frustrated would shaice you if you lonaw the detnils, and thay involve people you know weli. One, with a chep effort to explit tho Aray intelligance businoss after recedpt of zy letters, would have been a real divastor mad would have helped zet those rascala off the hocir.

Whetion or not this has hap jenex witin Boes, as I consider probable based on the past, the poseilility exists and I'm confident that anon's those to whon I sent my letters and those with whoa they have cloge assoczation, it is inevitabls that something of this kind has been done. I do not think thexe is ons of us who could undertake this on any large scale without consultation with a fev of the others, and this includes ne both azys: that I should subject my proposels and work to critical analjais and con:ent of othera with auficiont kuoulodige (of which there are. but few) and that no other should madriaike to do this without asking me to go over it. A simple misteke, such as Bud mado and ropeated after I corracted it in the apectro suit, could hers becone a major disastor. Bogess would be ruined, the whole thing would go up in amoke, all criticiam of tive FBI would be disanissed as invalid and irresponsible, and we'd be set back tizat much more. I do fear tris.

After I read his speech of yesterday I'1l be writing him agein. I fear than any elaborate aproach, aside fro being umeceseary for his present purposes, complicutes his life, rakes his rual couprehension impcseible, and is neadleary vulnerable. Jurting him personally today would be, aside from a great undheriaess, an enimous disgervice and would, I fear, pemanently turn off the few members of the Comnission who ifieht, in time, be hilpful to us.

Howover, I apologize for not having sent you my corr spondence, for then, if you'd heard of anything of this sort afoot, you ${ }^{8} d$ kchew its original inspiration and its potential for real if entirely minterded harin.

I fear our own sraatest hazend contimues to be those aith great ambition to succead, this best intontions in the vorld, and a woeserly inadequate knomledge of fact thet is combined with follish, sometimes aranoid, preconceptions to which very single thing is contorted to fit. We li be lucky to survive ourselves.

Hope you are all well.
