

Dear Jim: FBI- Burglaries; worth of their word 7/3/76

Head, NYTimes 6/17/76: "FBI Apologized to Flaccate Foes."

Subhead: "Kelley Asserts He Assailed Past Abuses in Bid to Halt Restrictive Legislation."

And all of it for no other reason, from the Crowlson story based on a Kelley letter.

Maybe you missed the Times that day. I did not receive a copy from you.

I am filing this, in the event you want it, under FBI, Burglaries.

Jim White sent it. He is able to send me fewer clips now and I depend on none.

He gets the daily Times only by mail.

His wife had successful surgery and is coming along fine. But it does restrict what he can do and he has much catching up to do.

Between this and Kelley's admission of having lied about when the burglaries that had not stopped had, he said, stopped, what is his word worth on anything?

I don't know if you will want to use this pair of stories with his letter telling us the entire Memphis F.O. file had been searched and everything of interest had been given or not. I think it would at least amuse Green. I do not for a minute believe any of these judges when they say the word and good faith of the government are not in doubt.

If you find any dupes of the Redlich-Ball papers there appears to be a small gap in those, I have. I put them together waiting for the kids, who are over an hour late. I didn't get to unpack my bag until this morning.

Nothing on any of this in today's mail.

Best,
