HW: The attached may be the opening gun (no pun intended) of the NY Times stuff you've been talking about. Haven't seen the rest, as we're behind in our work and won't catch up until after S. Claus has come and gone.

Your fat mailings of Dec. 13 and 17 both here, but have been able to sort through them for direct communicationsx only.

Glad to hear you're doing so well. The better sleep must come from a general feeling that things are moving, some sort of progress is being made or in sight. Hope it continues.

More later,

Best from us both to both of you, jdw22dec75

THE NEW YORK TIMES, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1975 (Op-Ed Page, center)

DEC 6 1975 By Jerry Policoff

Twelve years after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, the Warren Commission report, which concluded that the killing was the work of one man, Lee Harvey Oswald, is once again holy debated.

NYTimes

Recent disclosures show that both the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Central Intelligence Agency systematically withheld relevant evidence from the commission, and declassified executive session transcripts tell of the untenable circumstances under which the commission operated. Before it had even begun deliberations, one commissioner remarked that "we might as well pack up and go home" in view of the lone assassin findings being forced upon the commission by the F.B.I., which is relied upon as its

the F.B.I., which is relied upper as its principal investigation staff members have suggested that the F.B.I., C.I.A. and other agencies be immetigated to discover why material was withheld from the commission, but they have maintained that so new investigation of the assassination itself is necessary since none of the fresh disclosures have diminished the commission's es-sential findings, sential findings,

This position carries with it the as-sumption that the original evidence supports the findings of forth in the report—an invalid assumption in view of the facts.

To believe the report, we must also believe that an extransionary number of improbabilities occurred against the wildest odds. What follows is had a small sample: small sample:

The vast majority of eye and ear witnesses had to have been mixeden about the source of shots from the right front, including several Secret Service agents and the initial of Folice. Jesse Curry, who talkely ordered his men to concentrate an that area.

There must be noted approxima-torial explanation for Val Provident's head having been recircle violently backward to the lath-si reaction that would seems accre.condistent with a shot from the rights front than from behind

 Oswald was lucky. A poor shot, he successfully accomplianed what none of the commission's expert marksmen were able to accomplials under more favorable controlled circumstances. ろんちいらき

• Three employees of the Pexas Book Depository, where Oswald worked, must have been senated when they said they thought they saw him on the first floor during the first mouth and first floor during the 45 minutes preceding the

• A fourth witness was mistaken when he told the F.B.I. on the day of the assassination, Nov. 22, 1963, that he had last seen Oswald on the first floor, but was correct six months later when he told the commission that he had last seen Oswald on the sixth floor after everyone else had gone to lunch.

There also had to have been no con-nection between a statement by a Dallas police lieutenant that this witness "would probably change his testimony for money," and the apparent altera-tion in his story, • Oswald, who said he was on the Four, Secret Service agents, two FBL agents and the President's personal physician were all mistaken when they also located the wound in a position approximating the holes in the cloth-ing (The house holes) in the clothing. (The higher location was essential to the commission's theory that the throat wound was as call wound for the bullet that entered the back.)

John Counsily, one bullet must have caused seven different wor counsily a fifth rie and right wrist along the way, histing his isst thigh with encouse wrist to leave a fragment permanently embedded in the bone, and then merely failing out of the wounds to be found intact and un-soratined by a hospital orderly. Even test builtes fired through tubes of gotton suffered more damage than Even test puters first through tables of cotton suffered more damage than this super bullet. The commission's staunchest defenders acknowledge the situachest detenders schlowiedge the extreme unlikelihood of the single-builet theory. They generally argue that it is possible because it happened. Defenders of the Warren Comma-sion report say that the critics have yet to produce a theory that makes more sense than the one put forward ; by the commission. On the contrary, by the conditistion, on the contrary, the evidence weaves a fabric pointing imavoidably toward conspiracy. The commission with its preconceived notions simply chose to interpret it otherwise, and suppressed that which it could not so interpret.
