10/01/23/72

U.S. Judge Rules FBI Search Of Detective's Office Illegal

By Lawrence Meyer Washington Post Staff Writer

A federal judge ruled yesterday that a FBI warrant to seach the offices of a local private detective was illegally obtained and that evidence seized during the search cannot be used.

The effect of the ruling by U.S. District Court Judge John Lewis Smith Jr. was to throw into doubt the prosecution's entire case against Richard ference or lecture in your gally advertising and selling electronic equipment.

Bast's lawyer, Philip J. Hirschkop, had argued Sept. 14 before Smith that FBI agent that the recorder would be tivity to be unlawful as reant U.S. Attorney John E. Drury had committed perjury while preparing an affidavit that was the basis for a U.S. magistrate's issuing a search warrant.

Smith said he found "no willfull misrepresentation of fact anywhere in the affidavit." The judge agreed with Hirschkop, however, that the affidavit failed to establish legal Bast if the recorder could be ignation 'surreptitious,' " grounds for issing the search warrant.

As a result, Smith ruled, all evidence obtained in the search must be suppressed. Although the evidence obtained related to only four counts of a six-count indictment, other language in Smith's ruling was interpreted by Assistant U.S. Attorney Guy H. Cunningham III to mean that if the government tried to prosecute the other two charges, Lewis would throw them out as well.

"For all practical purposes,"

Cunningham said, Lewis' rul- tivated when someone ing destroys the government's spoke. Bast replied that the case, unless the ruling is over- only use for such an adapted turned on appeal. Cunningham said that no decision has been Bast is president of Redex would be illegal." Corporation, which sells electronic equipment by mail, including a miniature tape-recorder. An advertisement mailed by Bast describes the recorder as one that "scretly tapes shirt pocket . . ."

Bast sent that advertisement hrough the mail, a violation of ment's position that this mere federal law, according to the fact supports a reasonable ingovernment, which contended ference that Bast knew his acused for "surreptitious interception of oral and wire communication ant in California who had re- used for "surreptitious," and ceived one of Bast's advertise- therefore, illegal, interception ments, spoke with Bast on the of conversations. telephone and asked him to send a sample of the tape-recorder.

adapted so that it could be ac- Smith ruled.

recorder would be if it were to be "dropped" (secretly placed made about whether to appeal. somewhere "and that this

According to Mahan's affidavit, Bast was described as having refused to discuss the legality or illegality of the tape-recorder.

Even if Bast had refused to discuss the legality or illegality, Smith ruled, "The court disagrees with the governquired by the statute."

Similarly, Smith rejected the government's argument On Dec. 21, an FBI inform- that the recorder was to be

"The recorder in this case is advertised as one designed to be used primarily by a party The FBI informant, accord- to the taped conversation and ing to court papers, asked therefore falls outside the des-