

Attachment to affidavit of Harold Weisberg

My total indebtedness is $29,192.00

My assets are
Property, assessed value $26,280.00
Bank accounts, checking and savings 872.09
$27,152.09

In addition to the above, we have an escrow account in which there is a small sum, but it is not our money, and I have a 1965 model Valiant with over 90,000 miles on it. The annual cost of servicing my indebtedness is approximately $2,700. We will shortly be making a small additional deposit in our checking account which, with it, will fail to equal payments now due.

I do have money owed to me but cannot collect it. Most of these accounts are insufficient to warrant the cost of collecting them. In one case where I was able to obtain an attorney, who has not yet filed, he will get 50 percent and I understand that in that jurisdiction the delay is about eight years after filing before hearing.
