Dear Harold:

Thank you for your prompt delivery of the books. I have torn up your check to me, and I enclosed a check for the books. I was only glad to furnish you with the CA clippings and renew our relationship after all these years. I have been busy trying to keep my neck above water supporting my self as an attorney. I have had very little time trying to gumshoe the King assassination. All I can do is to try to read what is current in my leisure time.

I have read High Treason II. Robert Chapman, the young man I discussed with you over the phone, ^{has talked to me} ~~have~~ talked a couple of time by telephone. He recommends High Treason II's photographs of Kennedy's autopsy. He has suggested that he and i have lunch together sometime. He said there is a new photograph in the book, / but I do not know which one he is talking about.

I found Lifton's Best Evidence highly suspect when I read it almost ten years ago. Chapman said he has a revised edition that also ~~includes~~ ^{includes} a new photograph. I have not obtained a copy.

I saw Unsolved Mysteries. You deserve a lot of credit for discovering the J.C. Hardin Tead. Again, the FBI overstates its case when it purports to say that it retraced Ray's every step and discovered every person he came into contact with, etc.

I testified in the HBO trial. I do not know whether my testimony will be in the three hour version. April Ferguson, whom I think a lot of, did a lousy job of preparing to examine me. I showed up two days in a row at their notice, but she did not talk to me until a few minutes before I took the stand. Even then she asked me: "What are you spped to testify to?" This is only a few minutes before I am to take the stand. I told her I was supposed to testify as to what my conversations were with Solomon Jones, Grace Walden, Judson Ghormley, she asked me: "Who is Solomon Jones?"

Well, this is Saturday night. I have a deadline for answering a summary judgment motion in federal court, so I will have more to say later after the HBO movie.

Thanks Again,

WAYNE
