Description:

Copy of unsigned
statement found in Ferris's room.

To leave this life is, for me, a sweet prospect. I find nothing in it that is desirable, and on the other hand everything that is loathsome.

Daily we are propagandized more and more about a rising crime rate. But how do we know it is true? We don't for we Americans have little or no access to the truth. Today I went to the police headquarters to see these "public records" of this rising crime rate and nearly wound up in jail for my trouble. I was searched, interrogated, verbally abused, had my record checked, and finally threatened. Needless to say I did not see the "public records".

Still more irking is to hear a Superintendent of Police, who rose through the ranks (thus proving that Ox=O) stating that the solution to the crime problem was tighter and more stringent laws. A somewhat Messianic District Attorney concurred. Together these men thereby proved themselves utterly unfit for office, just as they proved that an electorate cannot be depended on to pick the right man. The problems of crime rest deep in society. The problems exist in the existence of divorce, and the absence of regulations.

No parents would send him child to an amateur for dental work, nor a quack for an appendectomy. Yet what atrocious negligence in permitting utter amateurs to raise children, mere kids are allowed to marry because they have the "urge". How stupid can you get? Every expert tells in detail of how children must be cared for physically, emotionally and intellectually. Yet society lets girls and boys, not yet capable of love, begot children who, loved-starved, turn to crime for some sort of identification. However, I don't think we will often see a District Attorney, or a police chief with the brains to realize this.

We pay so much attention to The Law. I have not figured out the reason. I have watched judges, like J. Bernard Cocks, Herbert Christenberry and others of like ilk at work. The various police, D.A.s and the like get to bend the judges ear long before the trial. These judges of today deny defendants due process of the law. They permit the State to try the case in chambers, to have D.A.s form their opinions and decisions long before the Defense gets a chance. Further these same judges (and I am afraid it pertains to nearly all of them) then comment, by word, glance, gesture or remark, on the evidence in front of the jury. If the defendant wins these same judges take it as a personal insult.

When I was a boy my father preached that in the "American Way of Life" you were innocent until proven guilty. No greater lie has been told. The man charged before the court has flat got to prove his innocence. Go witness a criminal trial and watch/ The State is supposed to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt. If you read decisions of the various Courts of Appeals, and the Supreme Court, you discover that truth and falsehood, right and wrong have no place in court. All the State needs is "evidence to support a conviction". If this is Justice, then Justice be damned.
