H arold,

Here's what I could come up with. This is a xerox of a ~~the~~ xerox of etc. You have all of the $100s, but lose 1 $50 and 1 single on the last page. I don't know where the originals are.

They wouldn't copy the inventory sheets for me. They were 2nd or 3rd copies and very faint.

According to the sheet there were $100-$100/ ten $50s/ two $20s/ 2 10s/ one $5 and 16, ones. If you look at the inventory sheet xeroxed, you'll see it also includes one $2.

All of the omney was in a woman's purse. Inside the purse was a "red wallet" which included the check book and the $100s. The rest of the cash was in a "small red wallet."

They also listed fragments of a black coat, a brown wig and abrown sweater, which were all destroyed, according to the record.

Other items included:

1-ring, 4 slanted rows of diamonds, 3 in each row, inscribed inside "sept, 7, 1940" 14-K.

1 yellow metal ring with initials DLH, inscribed inside "semper fidelis" or how ever its spelled,

1 yellow bracelet. I couldn't make it out but it looked like it said with a ~~the~~ uruguan coin.?

1 bracelet with four charms, "lisa" "Kevin" "David" and "Saint Joan." (!?)

1 yellow metal bracelet. (no other description.)

She wore a 38-b bra with a sears label. and a St. Thomas brand white blouse with brown flowers print.

All this was from thin copies, badly printed and faint. Some I couldn't make out. ~~THE~~ It strikes me immediately that there should be more in her purse than the bills. there was nothing else listed. One of the guys who inventoried the money told me they called the FBI about the cash and they came over, looked at it, counted it, took numbers but didn't seem too interested. They don't remember if it was banded. This stuff was all tossed together and there could be something missing.

Hope this helps. I'll try to see if I can find better copies of the actual sheets.

Finley
