Dear Ms. Smith,

Thanks for your note the the records from Jesar.

I'll read them as soon as I can expect to go over all without interruption.

Probably tomorrow, if not over the weekend.

For further discussion almost any time. I'm never out of town except for medical appointments for one of which I leave in a few minutes.

If you'd like, of a weekend would be fine. There is an excellent Oriental restaurant 15 minutes away and if you have any children, we have five acres on the side of a mountain and they'd probably enjoy themselves.

There are factual assassination stories that can be short, with documents. Some can be both new for TV and exciting. I can think of one that is entirely new in a major aspect and little known in the rest that reflects the initial determination not to investigate the JFK assassination. At the highest level, too.

If I did not mention it, these disclosures can be a peg for another - Oswald's contact in the Moscow embassy with a man who was expelled because he serviced one of the dead drops in the Penkovsky case.

If you are too young to remember it, Penkovsky was sentenced to death for his work for the CIA.

This man, Alexi Davison, gave Oswald his mother's address in Georgia so ^{Oswald} he could look her up as ^{he} Oswald was returning. And she was as anti-Soviet as could be.

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold Weisberg

Mr. Weisberg —

Thanks again so much for standing by! I look forward to meeting you and discussing all in the future.

Best regards,
Jan Smith
