

Paying sources-paying for information

Martin Waldron of the New York Times, to whom you express special gratitude on p. 453, quotes you as saying "that he had not paid any money to any of the principals or to anyone else for information."

Is that true?

Did you make any such offers?