Dear Harold,

Enclosed is a check for $10.95. Please send me one copy, with personal comments legibly penned inside, of "Post Mortem." Unfortunately, I have no mailing labels. However, please note a change of my permanent address as shown above. I no longer live at Route 1, Silver Creek.

It appears that the clamor for a new investigation into the President's murder is gaining momentum rapidly; I only hope it reaches fruition. The greatest danger is that the zany's and opportunists such as Dick Gregory will discredit the entire matter. Incidentally, when you send me my copy of "Post Mortem," please include at least two more order blanks such as the one which you have already sent me. I may be able to conjure up another order or two. I consider it significant that David Belin has called for a new investigation even though he did so with the caveat that he still believes Oswald was the lone gunman. I find myself being drawn to the theory that a maverick cabal of CIA personnel were probably implicated. Your sources of information remain astonishing. Our republic owes a debt of great magnitude to you, Sylvia Meagher, Josiah Thompson and Cyril Wecht. Keep the revelations coming; the house of cards has collapsed. It only remains to reorder the deck. The study of law is demanding but fascinating; I got quite a start tonight upon discovering I was beginning to comprehend the vagaries of Property. When you have a spare moment, please write and let me know how your phlebitis is doing. Give my regards to your wife who must be a most remarkably tolerant lady.
