

JL: Attached is the index reference to the FBI's interviews with Dr. Mark Freeman. This is a very unfair summary, eliminating what was most important in Ray's defense and actually, assuming a decent prosecution, what it had to know. I have in mind writing Freeman or his lawyer and sending them a copy of this with a statement of who has copies of the full report, who has discussed what content and what Freeman has told the press. I also have in mind that you may send a copy of Ray's release to me only or that I will tell them about it and if they have any question asking you. I will make mention of Ray's present state and our positions. Note that this does not say how they learned about Freeman or that he made all his records available to them. Now I call to your attention that in going over the volumes I am well past the date 4/19/68 (although they are not in chron. order) and have found no reference to Freeman. Yet the very day for the first time Ray was supposedly identified by onekrake the card says "I.D. Ray photos - 4/19/68." They had photos of Ray, not Galt, then? And knew about Freeman before they ID'd Ray? It seems odds, part by part and in combination. The thing that is missing is that Freeman considered Ray as of the last time he saw him and to then as incapable of the crime. Now if they knew about Freeman earlier they knew Ray's name earlier because he used his right name with Freeman. So there would seem to be a remarkable coincidence in the date. It would not appear that Freeman got in touch with the FBI after seeing the Galt picture or the artists' conceptions in the paper or on TV. I suppose it is possible that if Freeman heard the very first announcement of the right name he could have phoned the FBI but this does not say that. HW 1/8/77
