Dear Sr. Giannini,

Your card with the picture of Palazzo Vecchio takes me back to the early 1930s when in college I elected a course on the Renaissance. I then learned a little about your wonderful city of Florence.

I also appreciate the quote from JFK you wrote on the back. The right spirit! in the field in which I work.

If you would like books not readily available in Italy I recommend The Last Hurrah Bookstore, 937 Memorial Avenue, Williamsport, PA 17701.

They are a fine couple and they specialize in such books.

I have friends of correspondence throughout Europe and as far away as New Zealand who are their satisfied customers.

Thanks and best wishes,

Harold Weisberg

Dear Mr. Weisberg,

I'm the 25 y.o. Sociology graduated student of the JFK's assassination who wrote you a letter about one month ago.

I have been very happy to receive your passionate answer. I will try to follow your important advices on how to study the JFK's assassination, and one in particular:

"Is this reasonable? and if something passes that test, Is this possible?"

At this moment I have been reading Mark Lane's "Rush to Judgement" ('67 Italian version, very interesting about Jack Ruby), and I have also bought W. Manchester's "The Death of a President" ('67 Italian version) and the original 1964 Warren Commission Report. I have found these books in an old library in Florence. The Report still bears marks of the historical 1966 Alluvion of Florence, but it's not that bad!

Enclosed is the copy of the receipt of an international postal money order for your "POST MORTEM". You'll receive the money in not more than one month.

I'd really love you to dedicate your book to me.

Sincerely,

P.S. On the money order I wrote "Route 12" and not 7627 and "21701" and not 21702. I hope there'll be no problem! Do you know where I could find the 1979 Final Report of the HSCA at a good (student) price? What about Mr. Nerin Gun?
