Dear Raphaela or Peter,

Thanks for the copy of the Bill Pepper book. It happens he had sent me one and I read it. He had been here, did some file searching and copying and got a student to continue doing that for him.

Also in today's mail is what perhaps neither of you will want to read but I send it on the chance either of you might. It is hasty and rough but it is also factually correct.

I do not recall whether I told either of you that I was working on a book on Mailer's disgrace. It is long, also rushed, and completed in rough as a record for our history. I doubt any publisher or magazine wants to tangle with either the Random House empire or the Newhouse empire of which it is part.

It is a long book. These are two of the earlier chapters. I asked my wife to retype them on the slight chance that there might be some interest in them but I've no practical means of learning whether there was or could have been.

As if you read this you'll see what he did to that poor woman outraged me so I devoted some time and space to it.

I'll appreciate the return when you are finished with it. Xeroxing is no longer easy for either of us and there may be someone who might later want to read this.

Xeroxing reminds me. If it is not too much trouble I'll appreciate xeroxes of the pages in his Killing Kennedy in which Livingstone goes into how he says Abraham Zapruder helped fake his film. Allegely. I'll be glad to pay the cost. I hope you all have a good holiday and thanks,
